Hancock wrecks hurt two

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Separate Hancock County highway traffic accidents this week injured two people.
Michael R. Flanagan, 31, of Laurel was treated for a cut over his right eye and minor abrasions then released Tuesday from Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis after a one-vehicle accident on Hwy. 603 at the Stennis International Airport access road, Mary Perkins, hospital public relations director, said Wednesday.
The accident occurred about 12:30 p.m. as Flanagan was driving a tractor-trailer tanker rig, owned by G.B. (Boots) Smith Oil Field Supply Co. of Laurel and containing waste drilling fluids, north on the highway.
Flanagan reportedly swerved into the ditch on the east side of the highway to avoid a rear-end collision with a vehicle preparing to turn on to the airport road.
The rig evidently rolled and came to rest on its left side.
Flanagan escaped from the truck cab before a fuel fire erupted which completely destroyed it.
He was taken by Mobile Medic to the hospital.
The Kiln and East Hancock Volunteers and the Bay St. Louis and Waveland Fire Departments responded to the accident scene to extinguish the blaze.
The accident snarled Hwy. 603 traffic for about one hour.
Deputies Dennis Tartavouille and Nathan Hoda controlled traffic at the accident scene.
A State Highway Patrol spokesman in Gulfport said an accident report filed by Trooper Tony Greer states the cause of the mishap as "inattention."
MONDAY MISHAP
The other accident involving two vehicles occurred about 1:30 p.m. Monday at the intersection of Seminary Drive and US-90.
Ezering Bibb, 73, of 255 Washington St. in Bay St. Louis just after the accident was treated at the hospital for an arm fracture and minor abrasions then released, Perkins said.
Chief Douglas Williams of the Bay St. Louis Police Department said Wednesday that an accident report filed by Chief Investigator Murray Ladner and Sgt. Joe Pica of the department indicates Bibb is charged with failure to yield in the mishap.
Bibb was traveling south and crossing the highway's westbound lanes with Joan Howard, 31, of Chicago, Ill., as a passenger when a small pickup truck traveling in those lanes struck the automobile in the driver's side door, Williams said.
Robert C. Stewart, 23, of 309 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian was driving the pickup with Homer Mark Jenkins, 25, of St. Francis Street in that city as a passenger, the chief reported.
Williams said Bibb stated she stopped at the highway before proceeding, but did not see the oncoming pickup.
Bibb apparently was the only person injured in the mishap, Williams added.
She was taken by Mobile Medic to the hospital.

Rep. Lott endorses Bramlett

By EDGAR PEREZ
Mississippi's first Congressional District Congressman, Lott, this week endorsed Republican candidate for governor Leon Bramlett.
Lott, who is currently serving his second term in Congress, said he was "pleased to endorse" Bramlett, a former state legislator and businessman.
Bramlett, 52, of Ocean Springs, is running against incumbent Governor F. Lee Battle Jr. in the November election.
Lott said Bramlett is a "good man" and "a good representative of the people of Mississippi."
Bramlett has been a member of the Mississippi House of Representatives for several years and has served as chairman of the House Education Committee.
He has also been a member of the Mississippi Republican Party and has been active in various community organizations.
Lott said he has known Bramlett for many years and has always admired his work ethic and leadership abilities.
He said Bramlett is a "man of integrity" and "a man who will do the right thing."

At Friday hearing

Courrege to seek another runoff in two precincts

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Bert Courrege, District One supervisor, will ask the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee in a Friday hearing for another runoff election in at least two local precincts.
The incumbent, who apparently lost in the recent Hancock County Democratic runoff by 18 votes to Robert B. Peterson of Clermont Harbor, is scheduled to explain apparent irregularities found to the committee at a 9 a.m. hearing at the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department said Wednesday afternoon that his deputies are serving 90 summonses ordering various local residents to appear at the hearing.

Robert Peterson said Wednesday he will attend the Friday hearing.
Courrege stated Tuesday, "Due to discrepancies, illegalities, irregularities and omissions that will be pointed out Friday we feel like this election is not a true voice of the voters of District One."

"We will be asking for another election in the Arlington and Waveland East Precincts, but at the hearing we will point out discrepancies in all the precincts," he said.
"I wouldn't want to reveal those before I discuss this with the committee," Courrege added.
The committee's official count in the

Previously, the committee at Courrege's request recounted ballots which resulted in the incumbent receiving one additional vote and Peterson netted three more.

Courrege said his petition for a hearing resulted for the most part from his recent inspection of Hancock County poll boxes.

"A lot of the problems in the election were caused by confusion resulting from redistricting. A lot of people didn't know where to vote and voted in the wrong district," he revealed.

"We also know of instances where people didn't vote at all," Courrege said regarding some voters who were confused by new precinct boundaries and frustrated from an apparent lack of direction to proper voting locations.

Courrege said those situations were most prevalent in the Waveland East Precinct now in District One and West Precinct now in District Two.

Supervisors set millage

By JUNE M. HEYDT
Hancock County Board of Supervisors set millage totaling 77.75 at a meeting held Monday morning.

The general county operating fund and the road and bridge maintenance fund were increased by 10 percent.

The total tax increase for 1983-84 is 2.7 mills, which is the limit set by state law.

Walter Gex, board attorney, said at Monday morning's meeting, "The General County fund which was 23.80 last year is raised by 2 mills to 25.80 and is earmarked to try to meet the budget."

The base millage for all county residents will be 43.75 in 1983-84.

In the Hancock County School District 28 mills are added for support of public schools.

A 0.7 mill increase has been placed on the road and bridge maintenance fund for a total of 7.70. Two mills have been added for people living in Kiln water and fire protection district and two mills for people in the Diamondhead fire protection district.

Three mills have been designated for the Pearl River Junior College fund. Gex noted that everything but the general county fund has the exact same millage. Gex also noted, "We have for accounting purposes shifted other millage and put it in non-specific line items."

Supervisors choose hospital site, harsh objections cited

By JUNE M. HEYDT
Temper flared at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting Monday when a vote was taken accepting property located at the intersection of US-90, Drinkwater and Green Meadow Roads for the construction of a new general hospital.

The vote was 3-2 with Bert Courrege, District One supervisor and A. A. (Dolph) Kellar, board president and District Two supervisor, voting against it.

The 17.22 acres will be purchased for $361,820 and is presently owned by Norman Benigno. The land has elevations ranging from 18 to 20 feet. It is in an area earmarked for extension of sewerage services under a Farmers Home Administration loan to Bay St. Louis.

Phillip Langston, hospital administrator, said on Wednesday, "We are planning on raising the money for the hospital by having revenue bonds issued which would be sold to investors through an investment banker."

Langston continued, "We are not planning on using money from a general obligation bond which would require a tax increase."

"The hospital would pay for the financing through its own ability to produce revenue," Langston added.

"This was recommended by Ernst & Whinney, a CPA accounting firm which conducted a sensitivity analysis in April, 1983," said Langston adding "We didn't just come up with this idea."

"We're not planning on going to the public with any kind of taxing. A lot of hospitals are financing this way for improvements," concluded Langston.

The board's Monday decision came after several weeks of controversy over property in Waveland the hospital board approved.

A special meeting was held Saturday and the board passed a resolution stating they recommend the US-90 property.

Kellar said, "I cannot vote for what's coming up here today."

Kellar continued, "I served on the committee to study the land for the hospital site. The hospital board chose the site in Waveland. I know what happened and this board knows what happened."

The property in Waveland located on Nicholson Avenue was offered to the UW campaign head asks payroll contributors to specify Hancock

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County United Way 1983 fund raising campaign chairperson has issued a special request to payroll deduction contributors.

Hilda Bourg of Diamondhead, the chairperson, reports Hancock residents working outside the county must designate that their donations be forwarded to the Hancock County United Way.

Unless these donations are designated for Hancock, those contributions will be given to United Ways in the community where the Hancock resident works, she explains.

Bourg says hundreds of contributors donate to United Way because many are unaware of the local United Way organization. She said the Hancock County United Way is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization which is authorized to receive and disburse funds for the benefit of the poor and needy in Hancock County.
The United Way is a national organization which has been operating in Hancock County since 1954. It is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization which is authorized to receive and disburse funds for the benefit of the poor and needy in Hancock County.
The United Way is a national organization which has been operating in Hancock County since 1954. It is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization which is authorized to receive and disburse funds for the benefit of the poor and needy in Hancock County.

collected annually by other organizations, she reports.

The Hancock United Way is operated by volunteers and two part-time executives as compared to many other UW campaigns organized by full-time staffs, she says.

"Our collection is comparatively small, but the tireless efforts of our many volunteers helps us divide all but eight percent of what we collect to our 16 recipient agencies—most of which are located here and serve the people of Hancock County," Bourg states.

She reports that officials of the E.I. duPont de Nemours and Co., Inc. Delaware Plant just recently realized contributions from the company's Hancock employees were not reaching the local United Way.

As a result of the realization, duPont officials have agreed that the Hancock County United Way will receive a contribution of $10,000 for the 1983-84 fiscal year. This is a significant increase over the $5,000 contribution received in the previous year.

reports that Hancock residents working at the National Space Technology Laboratories should also specify their donations be given to the Hancock UW or the money may end up in the Harrison County fund.

Bourg adds in her appeal to payroll contributors, "Don't take the Hancock County United Way for granted, specify your donation for our local fund."

TERRI ZENGARLENG

Died Sept. 12, 1976.

If you look down from Heaven above, you're sure to see the ones you love.

And even though we've added a few, I'm sure they love you as we do.

These seven years since you've been gone, I've felt so lonely, so all alone.

A part of you will always be forever deep inside of me.

I'll cherish the memories you left behind, and remember the years that you were mine.

The love we shared is like no other, it's the special love between child and mother.

The tragedy that confirmed a mother's fright
The lonely months have turned into years
I still find it hard to hold back the tears
It's sad to think that you'll never grow old
That's the best years, or so I've been told
There's only a memory to say you were here
And a terrible need to hold you near
If only we could talk and visit awhile
And it would mean so much to see you smile
I still feel your presence as though you were here
There is a special place for you in my heart
You are with me dear, in my every thought

ETV Briefs

ETV IN SCHOOL

School begins on Mississippi ETV the week of Sept. 19 when this year's instructional television schedule for schools begins. Included among the 13 new ETV series this year is Mississippi ETV's new production "Sci-Fair."

"Sci-Fair" is a series of five 15-minute programs designed to take pupils in grades six through nine on the creative adventure of working on a science fair project, from selecting a topic and conducting the research to presenting the project at the science fair. The lessons can be seen at 2:30 p.m., Mondays, beginning Sept. 19.

Other new science offerings are a nature series, "Up Close and Natural," and a companion to the popular "Community of Living Things" — "The Human Community."

Three new consumer/economic series are part of the schedule: "Give and Take," "Consumer Squad" and "Consumer Connection."

In social studies, "American Legacy" explores the contemporary United States.

States

In the area of language arts, a continuation of the action and story begun in "Read All About It" will be presented in "Read All About It 2."

Three new series in the mathematics category will be in the ETV schedule this fall: "Counterplot," focusing on functional math skills; "Landscapes of Geometry," using geometry in everyday life; and "The Computer Programme," introducing computer literacy.

"Making It Work" is a job skills information series that emphasizes the characteristics employers consider most important in hiring and keeping employees.

A foreign language series will be added this year. "Parlez-Moi!" presents dialogue, vocabulary and grammar for the first- or second-year French student.

WASTE DISPOSAL

"Hazardous Waste: The Search for Solutions," a documentary about what people can do — and are doing — to help themselves and their communities, can be seen at 9 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 21 on the Mississippi ETV Network. The program describes the different tactics undertaken by citizen activists across the country and the solutions that have resulted.

In Santa Clara, Calif., the fire department pioneered a "Right to Know" law that gives them the right to inspect and regulate the storage of hazardous chemicals in factories in their town. Citizens in Norton, Ohio, are working with local industries, like Republic Steel, to reduce the production of hazardous residues in factories.

CARD OF THANKS

A special thank you to the City of Waveland, Hancock County and Bay St. Louis firemen who worked so willingly and hard to extinguish the fire that destroyed our home on Labor Day.

It was heart-warming to have so many strangers and friends offer their help and love.

I'd especially like to commend the City of Waveland Fire Department for their quick action to help us, even though our home was outside Waveland's city limits.

It is times like this that reminds how lucky we are to live in such a friendly and caring place.

Thank you all. We will be forever grateful.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

Gross Rent Multiplier

Question: I own an apartment building which was recently appraised for purposes of borrowing additional money. The appraiser based his value on a rent multiplier. I thought value was based on market value? What is a rent multiplier? L.C. Meadville.
Answer: Dear L.C.,

As you indicated the market value is normally considered to be the best indicator of the worth of property when an owner is trying to borrow money. While the market-comparison approach is normally considered the most reliable appraisal method for residential real estate, data generated via the market can also be used in appraising income property such as your apartment building.

Income properties can be valued by comparing their gross rent multipliers, or is not indicative of market activity.

Such a comparison converts the gross annual or monthly income of a piece of property (for instance, your apartment building) into a value estimate.

By taking the sales prices of other properties and dividing each one by its gross annual or monthly rent, a gross rent multiplier for each comparable is derived.

The average GRM of the group can then be multiplied by the gross annual or monthly rent of the subject property to set a value.

This popular method is a quick and easy means of comparing properties based on what the market is paying for similar properties.

Thus, the GRM approach is a reflection of market activity and is in fact related to the market approach commonly used.

Anytime the GRM approach is used it is up to the appraiser to pick the monthly or annual rentals that best reflect the value of the subject property.

Choosing properties that are not similar to the subject property will result in a GRM that is not indicative of market activity.

124th annual State Fair to be 'Family Affair'

The 124th annual Mississippi State Fair opens Friday, Oct. 7 at the state fairgrounds complex in Jackson and continues through Sunday, Oct. 16.

"This year's fair will delight the entire family," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Jim Buck Ross, also chairman of the Mississippi State Fair Commission which sponsors the fair.

He continued, "We have ten full days of events including some fine free entertainment. We also have a mile-long midway of carnival rides and attractions, including the Children's Barnyard/Petting Zoo, the Old Fashioned Cane Mill and biscuit making."

"Fairgoers will find the fairgrounds complex literally covered with things to see, do and enjoy," said Billy Orr, executive director of the Mississippi State Fair Commission and executive director of the fairgrounds complex.

Tommy Strickland, manager of the livestock facilities at the fairgrounds complex, said, "This year's fair is expected to again attract top livestock in the various breeds. We're also pleased to once again sponsor the Stock Dog Trials."

Premiums and trophies will be awarded to winners in their respective breeds of livestock. The fair officially begins at noon Friday, Oct. 7 with the arrival of junior lambs, steers, swine, breeding beef cattle and senior swine.

At 7 p.m., Friday, Oct. 7 the Hi Kickin' Chickens Square Dance Club, country singer Bobby Bare and Circus Acts kick off the fair's free entertainment. All three groups will be performing on the midway with Bare's shows set in the Mississippi State Fair Theatre. Bare and the Circus

Acts also perform at 9 p.m.

On Saturday, Oct. 8, Appaloosas dominate much of the day with their show in the Multi-Purpose Building. Also scheduled is a Future Farmers of America Livestock Judging Contest and a Horse Pull.

Highlighting the day's events will be the Mississippi State Fair Championship Fiddlers Contest and Liars Contest in the State Fair Theatre on the midway.

Other attractions Saturday include Cheerleader Competition, entertainment by the Mississippi Square Dance Association, Circus Acts, a Junior Steer Show and several hours of music in the State Fair Theatre, featuring Tony McGill & the Silver Eagle Band followed by Jackie Thompson's "Hour of the 50's."

Appaloosa judging continues Sunday, Oct. 9 in the Multi-Purpose Building. Also scheduled is a Junior Market Lamb Show, Junior Sheep Lead Class and a Mississippi Angus Association Heifer Sale. Other highlights include the Mississippi State Fair Drill Team Championship Contest.

Entertainment Sunday, Oct. 9 includes shows by the Florida Boys, the Singing Americans and Lisa Lynn, each in the State Fair Theatre on the midway.

A full day of livestock judging is slated Monday, Oct. 10 with Santa Gertrudis, Brahman, Horned Hereford, polled Hereford and Angus, all being scheduled in the Judging Arena. Other livestock judging includes a Senior Swine Show, Commercial Beef Heifer Show and Junior Swine Show.

Heading up the free entertainment Monday, Oct. 10 is Jerry Jeff Walker who performs at 7 and 9 p.m. in the State Fair Theatre.

On Tuesday, Oct. 11 the Stock Dog Trials take place in the Multi-Purpose Barn. Singer Charly McClain performs at 7 and 9 p.m. in the State Fair Theatre as free entertainment continues.

Activities Wednesday, Oct. 12 include more Stock Dog Trials, and Open Sheep Show, a State Jersey Cattle Sale, Cheerleaders Competition, and Senior Citizen Day Entertainment. The singing group "Pure Prairie League" performs at 7 and 9 p.m. as part of the fair's free entertainment in the State Fair Theatre.

On Thursday, Oct. 13 mayors from around Mississippi will be honored with "Mayor's Day." The fair's multitude of events continues including performances by the Hi Kickin' Chickens Square Dance Club and Circus Acts. The father-daughter duo, "The Kendalls" perform at 7 and 9 p.m. in the State Fair Theatre.

PAMELA THOMAS METZLER

I would like to take this opportunity to ask the citizens of Hancock County to consider me as a candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk. My name is Pamela Thomas Metzler, daughter of Ruby Thomas and the late Gussie D. Thomas of Bay St. Louis. I am 29 years old and a native of Hancock County. I am married to Leonard (Mac) Metzler Sr., and we are the parents of two children.

EDUCATION

I am a honor graduate of Bay Senior High School and attended Pearl River Junior College.

COURT EXPERIENCE

My candidacy is based solely on my qualifications and court experience. I have served as Deputy Chancery Clerk, Justice Court Clerk and at the present time I am Chief Deputy Circuit Clerk, for a total of seven years related court experience. I have a thorough working knowledge of all aspects of the Circuit Clerk's office.

ORGANIZATIONS

I am a member of the National Association of Legal Secretaries and presently serving on the Citizen's Advisory Committee for a new Hancock County jail.

With Circuit Court beginning the second week in January of 1984, a week after the new Circuit Clerk is sworn in, I am prepared to perform all the duties of the Circuit Clerk during the January 1984 term of court. It is essential that the most qualified candidate be elected to this position. I feel that I am the most qualified candidate with seven years of legal and court related experience and currently serving as Chief Deputy Circuit Clerk.

For professionalism and good government, please vote for and support

PAMELA THOMAS METZLER for Circuit Clerk.

The First Diamondhead Arts and Crafts Show is scheduled Saturday at the Diamondhead Country Club. Some 75 booths featuring arts and crafts of about every description will be on display for the public.

The show is sponsored by the Diamondhead Parents Association and proceeds will be used to improve recreational facilities at the community.

The event is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., so this should give many folks an opportunity to possibly select some Christmas presents a little early.

We hope to see you at the Arts and Crafts Show.

While on the subject of next Saturday, another big event will be taking place in Bay St. Louis.

The Annual Republican Cook Out at the residence of Dr. A.K. Martinovich on Seube Street is scheduled from 3 to 6 p.m.

U.S. Congressman Trent Lott is to be the honored guest and principal speaker for the big event in addition to several Republican candidates in the November General Election.

Admission is $4 per person for the roast beef po-boy dinner.

We understand tickets are available at Anthony's, Jerome's, Security Savings and Lil' Rays.

There should be a large crowd to greet Congressman Lott.

Friday night football will see Bay High and Thursday, St. Stanislaus playing their first home games of the season.

The Tigers will host the Pearl River Central Blue Devils, while the Rock-A-Chaws vie with Mobile County High School.

Coach "Snuffy" Smith's Tigers will be trying to maintain their perfect record for the season.

Bay High has shown a very good defensive team in allowing the two opponents a total of six points.

Pearl River Central, fresh from a win over arch rival Hancock North Central last week, will really test the Tigers.

Coach Vernon Powell's Rock-A-Chaws will be seeking their first victory of the season.

Even in losing both games this season, the Rocks could have won with only a little break. Against the Hawks the game was a lot closer than the score.

The loss to St. John was by only one point.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will try and get back in the winning column when they visit Stone County at Perkinston.

Coach Irvin Favre's Hawks will have to give 100 percent in order to bring a victory home.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will host the Yellow Jackets of St. Martin on Friday.

The host Pirates are seeking their first victory of the new season and should be ready for the Yellow Jackets.

Attendance at the local games have been good, but could be better.

We hope a large following of supporters will be in the stands this week.

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club will sponsor a Yard and Garage Sale on Saturday in front of ABC Rental, on US-90 from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

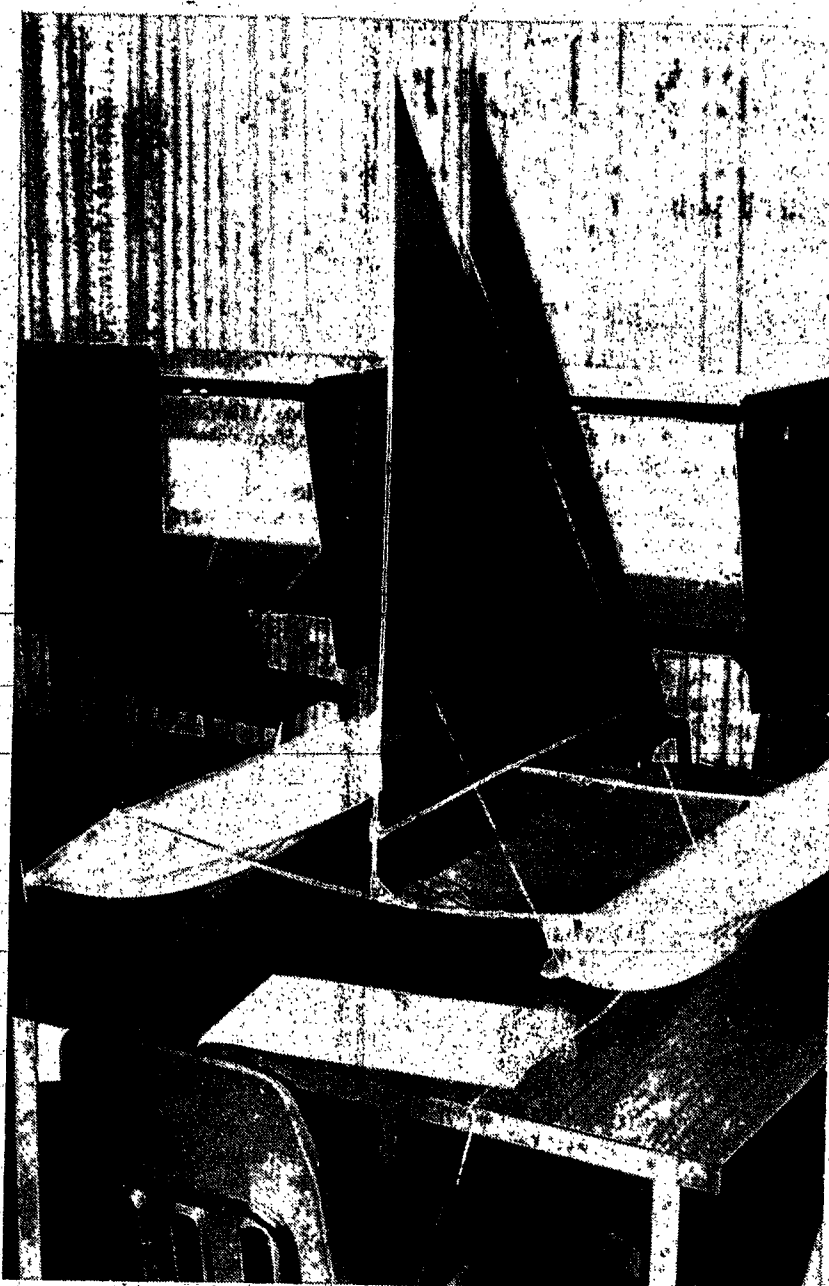

Rotarians have been saving all types of goods in recent months for this big event.

Dick Kosbab, chairman of the event, reports some very good items are already in hand for the spectacular event.

Proceeds from sale sponsored by the Rotary Club every other year will be used to help finance the club's community service projects.

As Rotary member Randle Hatton says, "Someone's junk is someone else's treasure."

We hope to see you at the big sale.

FANCY KITE—This fancy kite in shape of a catamaran, (sail boat) was constructed by Brother Elbert, SC of St. Stanislaus. Brother Elbert has been constructing kites of all types over the years, and can be seen on many days flying them from the school's pier. His latest can also sail on water. County Prosecutor explains new state DUI regulations

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Sea Coast Echo was requested by the Hancock County Prosecutor to run this article explaining the Driving Under the Influence (DUI) Law which went into effect in Mississippi on July 1, 1983.

Because of the numerous offenses of Driving Under the Influence (DUI) that I have handled recently in the courts, and the shocked attitudes of the drivers when they are sentenced, even after all of the publicity that the new DUI law is receiving, I do not feel that the public is totally aware of the consequences of drinking and driving.

The new law is much needed, and the sentencing is tough, as well as it should be, considering the number of deaths and serious injuries caused to innocent persons by drunk drivers. The new law is being and will continue to be strictly enforced in Hancock County.

In order to better acquaint the public with their options and the penalties they will face when they take it upon themselves to drink and drive, I submit the following:

Upon arriving at the police station after being stopped for D.U.I. a driver faces two choices, he can either (1) choose not to take the chemical test (breathalyzer) or (2) take the test. The results being:

1. REFUSAL TO TAKE TEST

If a driver refuses to take the test at the request of the officer, the officer immediately confiscates his license and the license is suspended for a minimum of 90 days even if the court finds the driver not guilty. If the driver is later found guilty by the court of D.U.I. after refusing to take the test he will be fined $500.00 to $1,000.00 or imprisoned for up to one year, his driver's license suspended for up to one year, and he must attend the Mississippi alcohol safety school one night per week for four weeks.

II. DRIVER TAKES TEST

If the driver takes the test and registers less than .10% of alcohol in his blood he is released with no further charges. If his blood alcohol content is more than .10% then there is a legal presumption that he is driving under the influence in violation of Mississippi law, and the officer immediately confiscates his driver's license. Upon being found guilty of D.U.I. the driver is fined from $200.00 to $500.00 and/or sentenced to twenty-four hours in jail, and the driver must attend the Mississippi alcohol safety school, and also the driver's license is suspended from 90 days to one year.

If any driver is convicted of a second offense of D.U.I. he will be sentenced to a mandatory term of from two days to one year, fined from $400.00 to $1,000.00, and his license is suspended for two years.

Upon a third conviction of D.U.I. a driver is sentenced to a mandatory thirty days to one year in jail, fined from $500.00 to $1,000.00, and his license is suspended for three years.

Anyone caught driving while their license is suspended faces a mandatory jail term of from two days to one year, and are fined from $200.00 to $500.00.

Under the new D.U.I. laws the court cannot suspend any of the fine and where the jail sentence is mandatory it must be served without suspension.

From the above you can readily see the new D.U.I. law is tough, much tougher than most people realize. The very least a court can sentence a first offender who took the test is a $200.00 fine, approximately $50.00 court costs, his license suspended for 90 days, and attendance to the Mississippi alcohol safety school for one night per week for four weeks.

If a driver refused to take the test the minimum penalties increase, greatly, and if he has more than one offense, or if he is caught driving while his license is suspended he will receive a mandatory jail sentence.

In addition to these penalties, if a driver is under the influence and involved in an accident in which his negligence causes serious injury to another, he is guilty of a felony and can be sentenced to the State Penitentiary for up to five years.

Capital Gain.

Time and again, you've heard it said, "To make money, you have to have money."

The truth is, you have to know how to save money before you can think about making more.

That's why more and more people are joining the Payroll Savings Plan to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. That way, a little is taken out of each paycheck automatically.

In no time, you'll have enough Bonds for a new car, your child's education, even a dream vacation.

Whatever you save for, Bonds are the safest, surest way to gain capital.

Hancock supervisors congratulated on hospital vote

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The decision of the Board of Supervisors to locate the new Hancock General Hospital on land within Bay St. Louis and situated on US-90 has received so many favorable comments until I feel an open letter to the board expressing the appreciation, and approval of many citizens is in order.

Certainly the board made a careful study of all aspects, and concerned itself primarily with a decision that is to the best interest of the majority of the people.

There are those who felt renovation of the existing structure would be less costly and serve adequately. There are those who considered the offers of free acres a generous gesture.

Thomas Jefferson, one of the framers of our Constitution, summed up the situation best when he said:

"I am not an advocate for frequent changes in laws and institutions, but laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind. As that becomes more developed, more enlightened, as new discoveries are made, new truths discovered and manners and opinions change, with the change of circumstances, institutions must advance also to keep pace with the times."

We owe a debt of gratitude to our Board of Supervisors for their careful consideration, and for their wise decision.

Sincerely,
Joe Pilet
Bay St. Louis

Do citizens of Hancock County really want a new hospital?

To the Editor:

I would like to ask our citizens and our elected officials a few questions:

(1) Why do we need a new hospital (what's wrong with the old one)?

(2) Who wants a new hospital?

(3) Do the citizens realize what the cost of a new hospital will be per month and per year?

(4) Would a new hospital improve service, or will it be an $8 million boondoggle?

Proponents say we need a new hospital because the old one is outdated, inefficient, and in a poor location.

But it would certainly be more cost-efficient to repair, re-equip and remodel the present hospital than to build a new one. More rooms could be added in the rear, and a completely new operating room could be added with all new equipment.

There are occasional problems with flooding on Dunbar Avenue leading to the hospital, but these could be solved with improved drainage and by physically raising the level of the roadway.

Who wants the new hospital? I feel it is a few individuals who are looking to make big bucks off the taxpayers of this county. Everyone seems to want the hospital in their city or on their land.

The rate of payback for $8 million at 10 percent over 30 years is $70,205.68 a month for the next thirty years.

Does anyone honestly believe the new hospital will be able to earn $70,000 a month for a note of that size?

That is more money than the average Mississippian makes in 5 years!

If private individuals want a new hospital, let them find private funds, not municipal-supported bonds.

A new facility is simply avoiding the real problem. A new attitude would help more than a new hospital.

We do have a lot of good personnel at Hancock General who provide excellent service.

I (and my family) have used them and will continue to do so.

The citizens of Hancock County do not need a new hospital.

Fix and renovate the old one with new equipment, personnel, and management, and with the money saved we can make the improvements in our schools, streets and municipal services that are so desperately needed.

This would be money better spent than on an $8 million boondoggle.

State action asked in mayor's delinquent utility bill case

September 13, 1983

To the Editor

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Ms

Dear Sir:

Your attention is called to The Daily Herald, dated Sept. 12, 1983 which includes an article which states "Bay, Waveland to up sewer rates."

I object!

Why should I be forced to pay an additional $1.50 each month? If people like the "Honorable" Larry Bennett would pay his utility bills when they are due, my rates in all probability would not go up.

I feel this is the straw that will break the camel's back. It's past time the citizens of Bay St. Louis put their foot down and stop this.

I think it's time we go to the state officials to take appropriate action.

If other citizens in this town feel the same, and have the guts, let's see you do something about it. As of right now I intend to let everyone in Jackson, Mississippi know just how I feel about this entire mess in Bay St. Louis.

Yours truly,
Bill Moran
Bay St. Louis.

Curtailment of spending programs seen a answer to overburdening taxation

13 September 1983

Editor

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

Tip O'Neal of the Liberal Democratic Party has made the pontific announcement that President Reagan must propose new tax bills to overcome or decrease the stupendous federal budget deficits.

Why, Mr. O'Neal?

The deficits are entirely due to the lunatic giveaway programs set up by the "Spend and Tax, Tax and Spend" policies of the Liberal Wing of the Democratic party!

The President has brought the nation out of a recession and the tax taken should increase if the Speaker's party will only use what little sense of financial responsibility that they have and curtail wild, irresponsible spending programs.

Kiln and Diamondhead are to be assessed increased property taxes this year. Why not try the County Unit System for the Board of Supervisors and curtail some of the unnecessary spending?

We are already paying the largest portion of the county taxes and not all of us are rich!

Some of us worked day and night for many years in order to retire! We stop for bargains!

Yours for Intelligent Spending,
Sidney Watson O.D.

Mississippi's new drunk driving law is tough.

Under Mississippi's new amended Consent Law, if you are driving under the influence of alcohol you're just asking to have your license suspended for a minimum of 90 days.

If you're on the road drunk, you won't be caught.

Hospital

hospital board for $10,000 an acre. However, the board of supervisors choose to let the option run out without taking any action on it.

Following the dropping of the option, supervisors received an offer of 20 acres of free land located off US-90 and Hwy-603, west of the Waveland Resort Inn. The land was offered by Milford Lady, also owner of the Inn.

Another free parcel of land was offered by Norbert Kohnke, for three acres to construct a boulevard from US-90 to the hospital.

Kellar said that politics, for the first time in the eight years he has served on the board of supervisors, has entered into a decision.

Kellar also said, "It is not good for anybody."

"What started all of this was the mayor and the city council," added Kellar.

Courge said, "We have to consider the people north and west and we also have to realize that the only direction the county can grow is north and west, it can't grow east."

Courge asked the board if they considered any of the other land propositions offered. He received no answer.

Mary Caillier, a concerned citizen, asked why the study only took in a two mile radius around the chosen hospital site. She asked, "Doesn't the rest of the county count?"

Lawrence L. Seal, county engineer, presented a visual report on the Lady site. Seal's estimated cost for soil excavation, fill and utilities necessary to prepare the Lady property is $74,900 per acre.

A concerned citizen in the audience asked Seal how accurate a visual report could be since all was done was to go down and look at the property and punch a hole in a place or two, said the citizen. Seal replied, "Pretty accurate."

Courge said, "What I can't understand is that for a whole year the board has been studying property and then all of a sudden over a weekend the decision is made."

Robert Genin, hospital board attorney, said, "The board decided to forget about price and find which land was the best."

Courge brought up the fact that if the hospital is built at this particular location then they will still have the traffic problems they have at the present facility. Waveland Mayor John Longo said, "I think the majority of the people in Hancock County want the hospital centrally located. The Bay St. Louis property would be great for a jail. Longo continued, "What we need is a vote of the people."

Former Hancock supervisor enters State Senate race

Former Hancock County Supervisor Jerry L. Ladner of Lakeshore has announced his candidacy as an Independent for state senator from District 46 in the Nov. 8 General Election.

Ladner, proprietor of Ladner's Wholesale Company and Mr. J's Variety Store and Beauty Salon, was the District One representative on the Hancock County Board of Supervisors from 1972 to 1975. He is a Hancock County native, lifelong resident, and graduate of Bay High School. Ladner, 43, and his wife Mary Ellen are residents of 708 Wood St., Waveland.

"Being a native I truly know the needs of the coastal counties and all of their people," the candidate said.

"My service on the Hancock County Board of Supervisors gives me experience with and knowledge of all three branches of government, namely the judicial, executive and legislative," Ladner stated.

"When elected to the senate I pledge to keep the people informed of prevailing issues and keep myself available to them at all times," Ladner added.

JERRY L. LADNER

Thomas Clarke is independent Justice Court judge candidate

Thomas P. (Tom) Clarke of 160 Cathy Drive in Bay St. Louis is an independent candidate for Hancock County Justice Court judge of the East District.

He is a Bay native and an attorney licensed to practice law in all Missouri courts, Federal District Courts, Courts of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

Clarke reports he is now semi-retired from his law practice. He was previously managing attorney of Legal Services of Eastern Missouri in which he supervised senior law students of St. Louis University Law School and Washington University Law School. In preparation and presentation of cases before state and federal courts.

Clarke is a member of the Mound City, Missouri and National Bar Associations; National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Omega Psi Phi Fraternity; and Knights of Columbus.

He is also a member of St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

Bell lists equipment repair service procedures

South Central Bell business customers with more than one line beginning this month will call toll free "800" Service numbers to report equipment troubles any time day or night.

The new "800" Service numbers are exclusively for equipment troubles. To report problems with telephone lines, business customers of all sizes should call South Central Bell's "Business Repair Service" at 1-557-1203 (toll-free).

For small businesses with key systems, ComKey(R) or Horizon(R) Communications Systems the number is 1-800-526-2000. Residential customers with key systems will also call this number.

For larger businesses with Bell PBXs, Centrex systems, and switched and private line data equipment, the number is 1-800-242-2121.

Small business customers with only a single line should continue to call "Business Repair Service" at 1-557-1203.

"Transition to the new '800' Service numbers for Bell business customers means faster and more efficient reporting of equipment problems throughout the country," said Don Roberts, district manager. "It is also a step toward the forthcoming divestiture of the Bell telephone companies from AT&T."

The recently approved Plan of Reorganization, under which AT&T will spin off the Bell telephone companies, calls for the transfer of existing leased South Central Bell equipment at AT&T Information Systems effective Jan. 1, 1984.

Access-line connections to the network and their maintenance will remain the responsibility of South Central Bell.

Roberts said that for better service customers will need to differentiate between equipment troubles and problems with telephone lines or switching before calling repair service.

He listed the following as examples of equipment problems that should be handled by the new "800" Service:

- cracked or broken housing cases;
- broken or frayed cords;
- inoperable system features such as Call Forwarding or Speed Calling (except on Centrex systems);
- inability to complete inside calls;
- inoperable lights, hold buttons or keyboard consoles;
- inoperable self-test features;
- problems indicated by system alarms;
- no dial tone;
- frequent wrong numbers;
- inability to hear or be heard on a single station or group of stations.

Examples of problems caused by trouble on telephone company lines or switchers include difficulty in making calls to outside numbers and problems with Centrex features such as Call Forwarding, Speed Calling and Three-way Calling.

Calls to the new "800" Service numbers will be routed automatically to a Bell customer support center located in Birmingham, Ala., one of 17 high-tech centers nationwide designed to speed and improve management of customer maintenance requests and to provide instant technical support to systems technicians in the field.

At the center, each call is screened by an account support representative who has been especially trained in Bell's multi-feature business telecommunications systems for voice and data.

The support rep uses the center's computerized Business Maintenance Information System, a data base containing more than 30 million separate business customer and equipment records, to update trouble information on each customer who calls.

The support rep then determines whether the problem might be tested remotely from one of the center's maintenance positions. If no test is required, the report is automatically routed to the field service center and the local repair staff.

Russ announces candidacy for circuit clerk office

Charles A. Russ III, 53, has announced that he will run for the office of circuit clerk.

CHARLES A. RUSS III

A resident of Pearlington, Russ and his wife, Nancy have two children, Lesley and Katherine.

Russ is a graduate of Long Beach High School and Perkinson Junior College. He received a degree in social studies from Mississippi State.

NEW WAVELAND RESTAURANT—Waveland Mayor John Longo, right, cuts the ribbon on Monday officially opening Rose's Cafe on Coleman Avenue. Those at the ceremony included from left, Jeannie Garcia, representing the Waveland Merchant's Association and Hancock County Chamber of Commerce; Dal Clark, Rose Clark, owner; and Longo. The Clark's reside in Bay St. Louis and the cafe will be open Monday through Saturday serving lunches and a regular menu. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Perhaps it's my changeable Irish nature, but I'm exceptionally fond of the contradictory taste of sweet and sour dishes of every kind, from the Chinese way with sweet and sour pork and chicken and such, to the spiced roasts of Sweden, to German's famed sauerbraten, to all the others. Sweet and sour meatballs are a favorite with us, served bite-size for appetizers, larger for casseroles or for serving with noodles. The sauce, incidentally, may be used for pork or chicken bits instead of for the meatballs, if you wish. I vary this recipe from time to time, as all cooks do. There are some dishes I almost never cook exactly the same way all the time! So, here's

SWEET AND SOUR MEATBALLS
Meatballs
¾ lb. finely-ground beef
¾ lb. finely ground pork
¾ cup quick oatmeal
¾ cup water chestnuts,

chopped fine, optional
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
Dash of Tabasco
Dash of garlic powder, pepper
Salt, optional
Mix all together and shape into approximately four dozen small balls. Brown in two tablespoons of butter or margarine. Set aside and make the sauce.

Sauce
1 cup sugar
¾ cup vinegar
¾ cup water
Dashes of pepper, salt
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
Additional tbsp. water

Combine the sugar, vinegar, water and pepper and salt, and as it heats, thicken with the cornstarch (dissolved in the additional tablespoon water). Place the meatballs in the sauce and simmer for 15 to 30 minutes.

Rug weaver to demonstrate craft at Diamondhead art show Saturday

At least one of the booths at the Diamondhead first annual Arts and Crafts Show this weekend will not have anything for sale. Livvie McGehee, who makes Oriental design rugs, will have about five of her works on exhibit, but says they're not for sale unless "someone offers enough money." Her purpose in having a booth at the Sept. 17 show is to demonstrate and display her work. She intends to start classes on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, if enough people are interested. The rugs are examples of the richly-colored, tightly-woven, precisely patterned rugs one associates with Oriental craftsmanship, but cannot be called that, because they are made in the United States. So, they are called "Oriental design" rugs. A typical rug is 5'x7', or less, and follows one of the 20 designs sold by the Halli Company of New England. Mrs. McGehee is a native of Winstonsboro, S.C. She moved to uptown New Orleans in 1976. With her husband Clay, an attorney, and two children, Lavinia and Laura, Mrs. McGehee also operates an accessories and design business from her home. She promises at least five new rugs in the Diamondhead Arts and Crafts Show, and will demonstrate the intricate methods of her craft. She will be offering classes to anyone interested, with a typical class including a dozen or more people. It will cost $35 for 6 weeks of lessons, and the graduate will be able to practice the same rug-making art as Mrs. McGehee. A typical rug takes up to 400 hours to complete, with thousands of touches of the needle to the fabric, and hours spent trimming the finished work. The show is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the open air circle in front of the Diamondhead Country Club. Some 75 area artists will have booths open to the public.

In my many, many travels around the world, I see a great number of interesting things. Rush hour on the Tri-State Tollway outside of Chicago. Footprints in the sand on Sanibel Island, Florida. Cactus crinkling beneath the heat of the Arizona deserts. You know, really first-class stuff.

Yet, one of the things I run into everywhere I go is the under-equipped photographer. The fellow is not easy to miss. He's the guy climbing a tree in order to get a closeup shot of a robin's nest with a normal lens. Or the fellow backing up 30, 40, even 50 feet from his subject in order to include everyone in a group shot taken with a 200 mm telephoto.

With that in mind, I figure it's time I drew up a checklist of things most photographers need in order to make life (or at least life with a camera) a little easier. Understand while reading the list, however, that these aren't ideas carved in stone a couple thousand years ago. They're simply suggestions based upon my own experience and subject to adaptation by each individual photographer.

Camera: Sorry, you all 110 cartridge-camera junkies, but I'm convinced a 35 mm camera is tops. If you want nothing more than a small, light easy-to-operate camera for vacation photos and a few family shots now and again, select one of the many attractive and reasonably priced 35 mm rangefinder-style cameras. Several now feature auto-focusing for added ease of operation.

If you take more shots than 20 or 30 a year, invest in a 35mm SLR (single lens reflex). Many feature automatic and semi-automatic exposure to take much of the mystique out of SLR photography.

Why a SLR? Because the time may come when you want more from a camera than a simple grab-and-shoot machine. Most SLRs are only the beginning of ever widening systems to fit the needs of even the most demanding shooter.

Why 35 mm and not 110 format? Because 35 mm images are larger than 110 images, which allows you to blow them up to larger sized prints without distortion or excessive "grain." Because 35 mm cameras feature a pressure plate to flatten the film for edge-to-edge sharpness during exposure.

And, yes, because 35 mm film is the most widely available and cheapest film per frame to shoot.

Basic Lenses: If you didn't buy a "normal" lens with your camera, don't fret. You'll find a 35 mm wide-angle lens or an 85 mm portrait lens (or possibly a combination of the two, as with a 35-80 mm zoom lens) a better buy for the money. It'll cost you a bit more to buy a camera body with one of the lenses above than with a normal lens, but you won't regret it.

Additional Lenses: Look through several issues of photo magazines—either current offerings off the newsstand rack or back issues at the library. See what shots turn you on the most. If you're intrigued by closeups, consider buying a macro lens. If you like portrait photography, get a lens in the 85-135 mm range. If nature photography excites you, choose a lens in the 200 mm or longer category.

If you're moved by poignant, classic scenes, select a 28 or 35 mm wide-angle lens. Of course, if you want to experiment, you'll need several lenses. Or, perhaps, one of two zoom lenses.

A 35-80 mm zoom would allow you to shoot everything from scenes to portraits, and a second zoom of 85-200 mm or so would cover everything else you'd normally want to shoot. Chances are the zoom would even have a so-called macro setting for taking closeups, although it would be as great a magnification as if you purchased a separate macro lens.

Camera Bag: Unless you want to run the risk of banging up your equipment (or forgetting to bring something you need on a photo trip), get yourself a good quality camera bag. Choose one with plenty of room for a camera body, several lenses, filters, and separate compartments for the little things like film. It should also feature an adjustable shoulder strap or ease in carrying.

Filters: Everyone should have a top-quality ultraviolet filter for each lens owned. If nothing else, it will protect the surface element of each lens from smudges, dust, and scratches. Everyone should also own a polarizing filter for eliminating glare and sun flare from outdoor shots. Beyond that, talk to your photo dealer. There are dozens of different filters available. You may benefit from a few of them.

Motor Wind or Drive: If you're into fast action photography or sequence photography, you need a motor wind or drive unit to automatically advance the film and cock the shutter at speeds which may range from 2 frames per second to 10 fps, depending upon the unit.

That will also allow you to concentrate on the subject—and composition—without having to worry about what happens between the time of exposure and the time you're ready for the next exposure. Be sure the wind or drive unit you're considering, though, will fit the camera you shoot. Like so many things in photography, they're not interchangeable.

There's a wide range of accessories filters available for many camera types—including "special effects" filters which can give you results like these.

North Bay first grade overcrowded

Bay trustees to discuss classroom construction

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees plans to soon meet with teachers and administrators regarding the construction of additional classrooms at North Bay Elementary School.

J.D. McCullough, Bay superintendent of education, at a Monday night board meeting, reported the school's four first grade classes are overcrowded and no other classrooms are available at the school.

The board approved his request to ask the State Department of Education to allow the situation for this school year only.

Burt Barrett of Waveland, Mississippi Association of Educators Gulf Coast Unit-Serv Region director, Tuesday said that the State Department of Education requires that each public school have an average daily attendance figure of no more than 24 students for every classroom in each grade.

He further explained that a total classroom attendance figure of 27 usually will result in a 24-student ADA figure due to student absences.

McCullough reported at the meeting that three of the North Bay first grade classes have a total enrollment of 30 each and one has 29.

The superintendent said at least one additional first grade classroom is needed which would result in 23 students in every room except one which would have 24.

He recommended the trustees purchase two portable classroom buildings which would cost about $20,000 each and last 12 to 15 years.

The superintendent said in light of purchasing procedures the trailers could be obtained by the district by the end of December.

However, Board President Walter Turcotte said he was against placing anymore portable buildings at North Bay.

Trustee James Ginn stated, "You know we swore a couple of years ago not to get anymore trailers."

Ginn was referring to the board's decision then to sell two dilapidated portable classroom buildings at North Bay.

The trustee said it costs about $50,000 to build one classroom.

McCullough said between $75,000 and $100,000 is available to the district for construction projects.

Ginn suggested the board seek a referendum regarding a bond issue to build enough classrooms, probably two or three, to meet the district's long-range needs.

Turcotte agreed and stated, "We're in a bind and I think we ought to lay it on the people and let them know what the situation is."

Ginn asked McCullough if one classroom could be built with the district's existing funds and the superintendent replied, "Oh, Yes."

Roger James, the North Bay principal, reported his 508 students are causing overcrowded conditions at the school.

He suggested the board investigate the construction of permanent metal classroom buildings.

Ginn suggested a special board meeting to discuss a classroom construction program.

The board president suggested teachers and administrators be invited to that meeting.

Turcotte also recommended the board discuss at that meeting lagging construction work on restrooms and gymnasium entrance doors at Bay Junior High School.

The board president said the restrooms are desperately needed at the school and the contractor should be urged in some way to complete the project as soon as possible.

Military Mention

ROTC CADETS

Four area cadets this summer completed U.S. Army Reserve Officer Training Corps advanced camp at Fort Riley, Kan.

The cadets, all students at University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, received practical experience in military leadership at the camp.

Attended normally by cadets between their third and fourth year of college, the camp includes instruction in communication management and survival training.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from college results in a commission as a second lieutenant in either the U.S. Army, Army Reserve or National Guard.

Among those completing this year's program are James M. Tramontana, son of Joseph Tramontana of 610

Fifth St., Pass Christian, and Janet R. Penny of 1553 Lakewood Dr., Sildell, La.

Also, Grayland G. Fredericks, son of Estelle Ausmer of Rt. 5, Pass Christian; Lawrence D. Rester, son of Larry D. and Shelba W. Rester of Rt. 2, Pass Christian; and Stephen H. Stant Jr., son of Stephen H. and Judy R. Stant of 133 State St., Bay St. Louis.

Bay Council accepts low bids for housing rehab

By JUNE M. HEYDT

At a recess meeting of the Bay St. Louis City Council Monday night Herman Briggs of Ron Murray Consultants presented the board with the lowest bids for the Housing Rehabilitation Project.

Briggs asked that the council accept these bids so that work could proceed. Briggs noted that Richard Fayard of Fayard Homes, Inc., Biloxi, asked to be relieved of his bid on the Margaret Cuevas house because he will be moving to Galveston, Tex. and will not be able to do the work.

Briggs said that Cuevas requested that the Madden Construction Company do the work on her home. Since the Madden bid was $11,420 Cuevas has agreed to pay the amount over the $10,000 grant limit, which in this case would be $1,420.

Also in the case of the Anna Mae Geoffrey house, she requested Vernon Bermond for the contractor to do her house. It was agreed that she would pay the difference between his bid and the lowest bid, said Briggs.

Other bids accepted were, Richard Cross house, Gulf South Builders, Biloxi, for $7,321.50; Charles Daniels house, A & B Construction, Gulfport, $5,426; Gwendolyn Frederick house, S & S Construction, Bay St. Louis, $4,450; Lillian LaFontaine house, Vernon Bermond, Bay St. Louis, $7,000.

Patricia Lyons house, $4,375; Jessie Patrick, 8,000; Sandra Price house, $3,550; and Ophelia Singleton house, $9,280, S&S Construction was low bidder on all four houses.

Briggs also presented a recommendation to the council that the $29,000 left in the rehabilitation fund be used for "special cases" houses.

Special cases are defined as housing rehabilitation applicants who do not qualify for the program under the existing regulations but whose situation, whether it be due to health, financial or condition of housing, is considered severe and outstanding.

The three homeowners being considered for special case assistance are Mrs. Edna Thornton, Mrs. Alfred Selles, and Mrs. Audrey Young Nar-vaz. The administrative fee for each special case would be $750 per house.

Wilmer Seymour, council president, said he hopes council will strongly consider approving of these houses for special cases since he knows the people and knows they need the help.

James Thriffley, councilman Ward III, said he also agreed that these people need the help but he would like to table the issue until the board attorney can examine the documentation.

Thriffley also noted that the funds available are not $29,000 but $26,642.

In other business, the council wanted to commend Larry Dahl, dog warden, for the work he has done and also for the way he handled the problem of a porpoise being washed ashore.

Also in other business, Geraldine Lang, president of Hancock County concerned citizens, asked the council to look into the problem of overgrown bushes on State Street. She said, "It is so bad that you can hardly walk down the street."

County school district continues special ed child find program

The Hancock County School District is participating in an ongoing statewide effort to identify, locate, and evaluate children through the age of 21 who are physically, mentally, communicatively, and/or emotionally handicapped.

Early identification of children in need of special educational experiences is most important to each child, according to Jeannette Handshoe, special education coordinator for the district.

"Furthermore, the information gathered from contacts with parents will be used to help determine present and future program needs as progress is made toward the goal of providing a free appropriate public education to all handicapped children," she added.

"Information which would identify an individual child will be maintained by this agency and will be provided to other agencies only in accord with the Family Rights and Privacy Act and IDEA. Handshoe stated.

"As a parent, you are guaranteed the right to inspect and review your child's educational records. If you wish to inspect or review your child's records, please contact the Hancock County School District at 487-4468.

three through 21 who are handicapped, regardless of the severity of their handicaps, and are in need of special education and related services.

The Child Find director works with the Department of Public Welfare, Department of Health, Department of Mental Health, local education agencies, ministers, physicians, and other individuals to identify and locate children out of school and in school who may be in need of special education services.

Once a referral is made, it is the responsibility of the child find director to insure that the referral-to-placement procedures are followed.

The director works with local survey committee at each school to implement this procedure.

The following activities briefly describe the procedure.

Prior to evaluation, a parent and information booklet, privacy rights, confidentiality procedures, policies of the district, and a copy of the district's special education plan are provided to the parent.

After the parent has received and read the booklet, the parent is asked to sign a consent form. The parent is then asked to sign a consent form. The parent is then asked to sign a consent form.

If a problem is noted in an area the student is evaluated in that area by qualified personnel.

When a student is ruled eligible for a special education program, parents are notified. Before the student is placed, parents must sign consent for placement, and an individual education program is developed for the student.

Parents, teachers and students participate in the process. All students receiving special education services are reassessed at least once a year.

Hancock County now has 16 special education classes which serve students who have physical, mental, communicative, and/or emotional handicaps. For information call the school district office, 487-4468.

The district also serves pre-school handicapped students.

Aspartame caloric reduction achieved in quantity

Aspartame, the sweetening ingredient in several new low calorie soft drinks, actually contains as many calories per gram as a carbohydrate.

Calorie reductions are afforded by the small amount of aspartame needed to achieve sweetness.

"It (aspartame) does have calories, the same number per gram as carbohydrates but you only need one-two hundredth the amount you would need if you were sweetening with sugar," said Dr. Charles Shannon, food technologist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Another benefit of aspartame Shannon mentioned is that it is not a fermentable carbohydrate such as sugar. Thus, even if an individual drank 200 soft drinks in order to equal the caloric intake of one sugar-sweetened soft drink, there still would be no danger of tooth decay from the acids formed when carbohydrates ferment.

Aspartame was finally approved for use in the United States in 1981. Since then further tests have been conducted to assure its suitability for use in soft drinks.

The Food and Drug Administration approved aspartame for use in soft drinks on July 8.

Aspartame differs from previous sweeteners in two major respects. The ingredients of aspartame are already in the diets of almost all humans, and it has no bitter aftertaste.

"It's a combination of two amino acids that occur naturally in foods we already eat. The only people in whose diets the amino acids would not occur are those with an inborn error of metabolism—an allergy to phenylalanine," Shannon said. These people would be on special diets to avoid this particular type of protein.

Phenylketonuria, as the allergy is known, manifests itself upon the first feeding of an infant. In fact, most states, Mississippi among them, test infants for PKU at birth, before the first feeding.

Any individual likely to have an allergic reaction to aspartame almost certainly knows it, according to Shannon.

The FDA found aspartame to be safe for diabetics, lactating mothers, infants, obese and glutamate-sensitive individuals.

The other respect in which aspartame differs from many earlier sweeteners is in its taste. "Taste panels are unable to distinguish it from sugar-sweetened products," Shannon said.

Committee eyeing real estate exam

Ten persons were recently appointed to serve on the Mississippi Real Estate Commission Test Development Committee, according to John L. Kennedy of Holly Springs, commission chairman.

The committee met on August 29 and 30 to update and revalidate the state real estate exam.

Applicants for real estate licensure in Mississippi must pass the examination in order to be considered for a real estate license.

Those serving on the committee include Dr. Carl Jones, chairman, Mississippi State University; Dr. Dennis Tosh, University of Mississippi; Ron Marquardt, University of Southern Mississippi; Dr. Janice Goree, Jackson State University; Harry J. Joachim, commission member; Biloxi; Joseph P. Long, real estate appraiser, Clinton; Scotty Hooker, real estate broker, Jackson; Doug McKinnon, real estate broker, Jackson; Zenora R. Williams, attorney, Jackson; and Phillip Hardwick, commission administrator.

Coast Sierra September meet set

The September public meeting of the Gulf Coast Group of the Sierra Club will be Thursday, Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hancock Bank Building, corner of Scenic Drive and Davis Street in Pass Christian.

Featured speaker will be Eddie Holt of the Mississippi Power Company's Environmental Affairs Office who will outline the efforts of his company in the environmental field.

The public is welcome. Bring aluminum cans, foil, newspaper for recycling or call 435-2623 for pick up information.

Poultry shows coming back despite disease

By Margaret Wallace
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Poultry shows nearly vanished a few years ago because of health problems in the industry.

Pullorum and typhoid, two highly contagious diseases, created much of the controversy behind the poultry shows. Either of the diseases can be transmitted through contact with an infected bird. Mosquitoes also transmit the diseases among birds.

Because Mississippi is a major producer of broilers and poultry products, control of these diseases is vital to the growth of the industry.

"When poultry shows allowing exotic chickens and fancy birds were held, there was great risk of transmitting disease," said Dr. Tom Smith, Extension poultry specialist. "Those birds usually do not come from pullorum-typhoid free sources like 4-H chick chain birds do."

The 4-H chick chain project allows participants to raise just-hatched chicks to laying hens. A small percentage of the flock is then taken to the county fair where the birds are judged and sold to buyers. The money raised from this auction is used to buy chicks the following year.

"The difference is that 4-H chickens are bought from approved flocks that are proven to be pullorum and typhoid free. However, fancy birds and exotic chickens are usually bred from generations of backyard chickens that may not be clean sources," Smith said.

Although the dangers of pullorum and typhoid have not diminished, Extension poultry specialists are cooperating with the State Board of Health to reduce the risks of the shows.

A representative of either organization attends every fair that has an open poultry show—one that allows chickens other than 4-H chickens to be exhibited.

Show officials test the birds that are not part of the 4-H project to see if they are carriers of either disease. Carriers are traced by one drop of blood from the wing mixed with an antigen. The antigen will clump if the bird is infected.

If a bird is a carrier, it is immediately turned over to the representative, removed from the grounds and taken to the Board of Health lab where more tests determine if the bird is a pullorum or typhoid carrier.

Once a bird is confirmed as a carrier, the entire flock from which it came must be tested and exterminated if infected.

Last year, 2,738 chickens were exhibited in 14 county poultry shows. Of this number only two were proven to be carriers. However, only one bird is needed to start an epidemic.

"The danger is there, but in most cases the birds are not in contact for enough time to contract the diseases," Smith said. "That's what we're trying to prevent."

"We run blood tests soon after the birds are brought to the fair to reduce the time healthy birds are exposed to the infected ones. Healthy birds generally stay healthy," the poultry specialist said.

Mississippi's deep involvement in the broiler industry increases the need for safety. One infected bird has the potential to spread the disease throughout the industry.

"If the diseases had not been eradicated in the commercial flocks 20 years ago, poultry would not have survived and flourished in the state," Smith said.

If uncontrolled, poultry diseases could destroy Mississippi's $403 million-per-year poultry industry.

Pass Christian
backfield hurt

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Key Pass Christian High School Pirate football team backfield players are suffering injuries as a result of the school's rival match with Bay High School Friday night.

The Bay Tigers squeaked by the Pirates in the hotly contested match, 7-6.

The battered Pirates are facing a Friday night game at Francis S. McDonald Stadium in Pass Christian with the usually tough St. Martin High School Yellowjackets.

Head Pirate Coach Kenneth McKinney stated Tuesday afternoon, "We're in the worst shape yet this season due to injuries."

Pass Running Back Pat McDonald, suffering a dislocated elbow and Tailback John McKay with a knee injury, are both benched indefinitely as a result of injuries, McKinney said.

He also reported Defensive Back Mark Boyd is suffering a severe leg bruise and may not play Friday night.

In addition, Quarterback Joey Rogers sustained a pulled leg muscle, but will play Friday night, McKinney said.

When asked how he plans to deal with the injuries on the relatively small depth team, McKinney stated, "We're going to have to try to get someone else ready to play in those positions."

The head coach said St. Martin is a tough team and although they were defeated by Moss Point High School last week, in a previous game the Yellowjackets beat Long Beach High School, 16-0—another strong team.

McKinney reported although St. Martin has more depth, the Pass is about equal to the Yellowjackets in individual player size.

St. Martin's win-loss record is 1-1 and the Pirates are 0-1.

Kickoff time Friday night is 7:30 p.m. at the stadium on North Street next to Pass Christian Elementary School.

MARLIN RECORD BREAKER—Mississippi State and Gulfport Fishermen's Tournament records fell Sept. 2 with the landing of a 488-pound blue marlin by Paul Kosbab, left, of Slidell, La., fishing aboard the Witch Doctor owned by Bud Moran, right, of Bay St. Louis, along with Ted Ward, center, of Long Beach. The trio, also entered in the Alabama Invitational Marlin Tournament over the Labor Day weekend out of Orange Beach, Ala. near the Alabama-Florida state line, won a first place team award in that event as well as Kosbab's first place marlin and top angler awards. The winning entry, taken in some 1,200 feet of water out of Orange Beach, toppled the previous 376-pound blue marlin record in the Gulfport tournament and the previous state record of 485 pounds. The fish, which weighed 496 pounds when entered in the Alabama tournament but failed to set a record there, resisted his captors for some two hours after being hooked on the afternoon of Friday, Sept. 2. By the time it was brought to Gulfport, the weight had dropped to 488.5 pounds. In addition, Moran set a new Gulfport tournament record with a 38.5-pound white marlin and Ward took a first place in the event with a 24-pound dolphin which fell two pounds short of the Gulfport tournament record.

Tigers to host DSC foe in home opener

Two games into the 1983 high school football season finds the Bay High Tigers all alone on top of the Deep South Conference with a 2-0 mark.

Defense is THE reason the Tigers are undefeated. A mere six points is all the team has allowed.

Offensively coach James (Snuffy) Smith's squad is having its problems, scoring only 13 points.

Both of those scores came on strikes from quarterback Jeff Smith to wide receiver Eddy Nelson, a 45 yarder to win the Stone County contest and a 6 yard pass to tie the Pirates and set up Bert Daigre's game winning extra point last week.

Friday night the Tigers will host the Pearl River Central Blue Devils in another DSC matchup.

The Blue Devils, 1-1, are fresh off a last minute, 21-19, upset of the Hancock North Central Hawks on a 70 yard kick-off return by speedster Chip Johnson.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

Thursday game

Stanislaus ready, coach says

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Once again Stanislaus Coach Vernon Powell says he will not predict the outcome of a game—this time it's Thursday's game against Mobile County High School.

However, he does say the team is in good spirits and they have worked hard all week. He said they've made adjustments in their defense and offense.

Concerning last Friday night's game against St. John, Powell said, "In the first half we had control of the ball defensively and we made two field goals."

In the second half the team just wasn't stabilizing down. We have to work on control of the ball.

"It's important not to make the mistake of getting penalties such as holding or jumping off sides. These make you lose yardage and have to come back with another play," said Powell.

Powell said Mobile is a good football team. He said they have, "size sitting up front on their line."

"We'll have to look out for Chester Davis, a running back for Mobile, he's real good," said Powell.

The main thing will be to shut down their offense and defense said Powell.

"We're going to have to control the ball offensively. We're going to have to set the pace," Powell added.

Powell said his team received some bruises last Friday but nothing to keep us out of the ball game Thursday night.

Powell said that Casey Wittmann and Marty Sahuque, fullback, were excellent in the defensive squad.

Powell added that offensively Casey Wittmann did a fine job and tightend Russ Belcher did a fine job and also kicked two field goals.

Other members of the team who have been playing well so far this season are, Darin Scarborough, tailback; Todd Thriffliey, tailback; Matt Scardino, quarterback; Jerry Kelly, tailback; Jimmy Thriffliey, center; Troy Flynn, fullback; Chuck Yarborough, fullback; and Humberto Anderson, tackle.

TRYING FOR A FIRST DOWN—Chuck Yarborough, No. 45 Rock fullback is blocked by Eagle, Sam Lindsey, running back. Rock Todd Thriffliey, tailback runs to the rescue and No. 10, Matt Scardino rushes to clear the way. (Staff photo by June M. Heydt)

Southern-Tech series dates back to 1935

Southern Mississippi and Louisiana Tech will clash for the 37th time in history in Hattiesburg Saturday night.

Going into the 7 p.m. contest in Roberts Stadium on the USM campus, the Mississippi team holds a 24-12 lead in the series that dates back to 1935.

However, Golden Eagle fans everywhere recall the latest meeting of the Birds and Tech's Bulldogs. It was in the same Roberts Stadium in the final game of last season, and the Eagles were fresh off a 38-29 win over Alabama in Tuscaloosa.

Southern's win over mighty Bama didn't awe the Bulldogs. Rather, it propelled them to a 13-7 over the Eagles that made memories of the big triumph at Tuscaloosa disappear ever so much quicker.

Billy Brewer, a former Ole Miss star, was the coach at Louisiana Tech last year. Now he's at Ole Miss and former tech standout A. L. Williams is at Tech.

Williams and his Bulldogs opened the current season at New Mexico State last week and came away on the short end of a 15-7 score.

The Eagles, meanwhile, were absorbing a 24-3 setback to highly-ranked (third and fourth in the polls) Auburn at Auburn. The Birds are now 1-1 on the budding season, having notched a 32-3 over the University of Richmond Spiders a week earlier.

Following their scrap with Louisiana Tech, coach Jim Carmody's Golden Eagles will take a week off from game action and then will play back-to-back games against Ole Miss at Oxford (Oct. 1) and Mississippi State in Jackson (Oct. 9).

The Eagles will have some very special viewers at the Tech contest this weekend as members of the famed Mississippi Southern team of 1953 return for somewhat of a reunion. The 1953 "Southerners" beat Alabama (25-19, at Montgomery) and later in the season blanked the University of Georgia Bulldogs 14-0 in Jackson.

The next Roberts Stadium game for the Eagles after this weekend will pit them against Tulane at 7 p.m. Oct. 22, and this one comes a week before a homecoming battle against Southwestern Louisiana.

Sports Brief

30 YEARS AGO

Special viewers at this weekend's University of Southern Mississippi football game will be members of the school's 1953 team that posted victories over the University of Alabama and the University of Georgia enroute to a 9-1 season that earned the "Southerners" a Sun Bowl bid.

The returning stars will attend a private function Friday night, a reception in their honor Saturday afternoon and be introduced at halftime of the USM vs Louisiana Tech game Saturday night.

Kickoff time of the 37th meeting of the Golden Eagles and Tech Bulldogs will be 7 p.m.

Bay Juniors take Stone in opener

Bay Junior High School defeated Stone County 14-8 in its season opener Sept. 1.

Bay scored first on a five-yard run by quarterback Quintin Bell in the first quarter. PAT failed and the score remained the same at half time.

Bay scored again in the third quarter on an eight-yard run by Bell. PAT was good on a pass to Hargett from Bell. Stone County scored with a minute remaining in the game by Terrance Galloway. PAT was successful by quarterback Sherman Harris.

The Tigers' defense and offense unit both played good ball. Even though Stone had an opportunity to win, the Tigers' defense stopped the attack of the Tomcats who had 30 seconds left and failed to score.

Centsable Changes Save Money & Add Comfort.

The Heat and Cool Pump is One Centsable Change.

Tom and Lyn Turner were willing to go along with the idea. They didn't really believe us when we said a Heat & Cool pump would save them money and keep them comfortable winter in, summer out. It was hard to believe that a simple change like that could make a real difference. But they listened to what Mississippi Power had to say.

See, during the winter there's always some heat in the air. The Heat & Cool pump moves this heat inside to warm your home. And during the summer the Heat & Cool pump automatically reverses this process to cool your home by removing heat and moisture from the inside.

But, as Tom and Lyn Turner found out, you don't have to understand it to appreciate it. The savings on your monthly electrical bill will be reason enough. Let Mississippi Power make the difference. For you.

Wildcats debut in South Division Saturday night against Hinds Eagles

Whatever J. C. Arban, Pearl River Junior College's head coach, said to his team after last week's season-opening loss at the hands of East Mississippi Junior College had a lasting impression on the Wildcats in Fulton Saturday night.

With fire in their eyes, an emotional PRC football team totally owned Itawamba Junior College Saturday night and came away with a 24-0 non-conference win.

Prior to Saturday night's ball game, Coach Arban took advantage of Thursday's pep rally at PRC to apologize to the fans for his team's performance during last week's 11-3 loss to East Mississippi.

Describing it as "the worst offensive showing I've seen in 25 years of coaching," Arban asked the Wildcat fans to stick by their team and made promises of better things to come.

Those better things began to take place in Fulton as the Wildcats annihilated a team that was picked to dethrone the national junior college champions from Northwest Junior College in this year's race for the North Division title.

The Wildcats opened the scoring with 4:47 elapsed in the opening quarter when Sammy Rogers banged into the end zone from two yards out for the first of his two touchdowns. Rogers' plunge capped a 10-play, 70-yard drive. Richard Hathorn added the first of his three extra point kicks to give the Wildcats a 7-0 edge.

Rogers, the game's leading rusher, ran for 105 yards on only eight attempts, compared to Itawamba's 114 yards in total offense.

Late in the opening quarter, quarterback Doug Norris and Ricky Myers teamed up on a 31-yard scoring strike after Ricky Joe Price fell on an Itawamba fumble at the 34-yard line.

Following a pair of scoreless quarters, the Wildcats iced the victory with 10 fourth-quarter points. The first scoring drive—a 14-play, 91-yard march which ate up 7:21 off the clock, was capped by a 23-yard Hathorne field goal. Myers then added a 78-yard touchdown run with 3:51 left in the contest to cap a 84-yard drive in two plays.

While PRC's offense, a unit which sputtered dramatically in the Wildcat season-opener, was busy piling up 411 yards in total offense, PRC's defense, which still hasn't given up a single point this year, was busy containing Itawamba to a mere four first downs and 114 yards in total offense.

"I thought we played like we are capable of playing," said Arban, who took the credit for the first 'Cat loss. "It was a long five and one half hour trip and we were ready to play football. I'm pleased."

Arban complimented his assistants, Herbert Morris and Leon Akins, for doing a very good job "teaching and getting the players ready."

Arban also cited quarterback Norris for doing a good job. "Doug took charge and showed he can do the job if we help him," Arban said.

Freshmen really impressing Arban are offensive backs Sammy Rogers and Rick Myers and defensive backs Jeff Ashley and Craig Walker.

So far, after the first two games the Wildcat defense has not allowed a point and less than 250 yards in total offense. One of the main reasons is the leadership the Wildcats are getting from linebacker Tommy Hillman, the 'Cats' defensive captain from Petal.

Hillman collected seven individual tackles, plus one sack and he had three assists. "Hill was just taking care of business," Arban said.

Hillman was named the game's outstanding defensive lineman, while Benji Kidd received the game's defensive back award. Norris was named the offensive back of the game, while Mark Glover was named the outstanding offensive lineman. Kicker Richard Hathorn was named special team's player of the week.

This week the Wildcats will open their south division schedule against the Hinds Eagles. The Eagles are also 1-1 with a 20-7 win last week against Southwest, and an opening 35-14 loss to Northwest.

"Hinds has a very big and aggressive defense," Arban said. "They will be very hard to score on. The Eagle offense has good speed in the backfield with a quarterback that's 6-2 and 210 pounds."

Hinds was a pre-season pick to be in the middle of the South Division race.

In games played this past week, Jones defeated Co-Lin

14-0; East Central defeated Gulf Coast 13-2; Northwest defeated East Mississippi 24-0 and Northeast beat Holmes 17-3.

The game against Hinds begins at 7:30 p.m. this Saturday in the Wildcat's Doble Holden Stadium. Wildcat captains this week will include Doug Norris, Oak Grove; Shannon Ramsey, Picayune; and Benji Kidd of Hattiesburg.

Pearl River College accepting nominations for alumni honor

Pearl River College's 1983 Alumnus of the Year will be selected Tuesday by the Board of Directors of the PRC Alumni Association.

Enoch Seal, PRC's dean of academics and secretary of the Alumni Association, made the announcement to encourage anyone with a nomination to send it to him immediately.

Seal said the Alumni Board of Directors, which includes two representatives from each of the six counties supporting PRC, will consider the resumes at 7 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Administration Building. All nominations must be in hand by that time.

Announcement of the 1983 Alumnus of the Year recipient will be made Saturday, Oct. 8, during the annual PRC Alumni Banquet. Seal said the PRC Alumni Association bylaws specify that the PRC Alumnus of the Year award will be the highest honor presented by the Association.

The selection by the Alumni Board will be based on the individuals' contribution to his community, church and school with emphasis placed on his or her support of Pearl River College.

Resumes should be mailed to Enoch Seal, Station A, Box 150, Poplarville, MS 39470. For more information call Seal at 601-795-4558.

Older citizens joining trend toward physical fitness

Joggers, walkers, tennis players and others interested in physical fitness have become increasingly visible across Mississippi, and older Missisippians are, in increasing numbers, taking part in the trend, according to Let Duker, director of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

Duker recently offered suggestions for older individuals interested in physical fitness at the Mississippi Council on Aging's Third Annual State Education and Training Conference.

"There are many advantages in a regular physical fitness program," Duker said. "It can increase mobility, help the older person to live longer independently, provide a better sense of physical and emotional well-being, decrease the likelihood of back problems, possibly decrease the likelihood of some types of heart disease, increase the likelihood of survival from a heart attack and, with a proper diet, assist in weight control."

He noted that various fallacies often discourage older persons from engaging in physical fitness programs. "These include the impression that older people don't need exercise and overrating the potential dangers of strenuous exercise and the value of light, sporadic exercise," Duker said.

"Begin the program with light, regular exercise, and work out with a great amount of patience," Duker advised. "Don't try to make up in a week or month for what you haven't done in years."

"Pay attention to your body's warning signals," he said. "If you have severe aches or pains or if you experience extreme fatigue, you should make adjustments in your exercise program. Exercise should leave you feeling refreshed, not totally exhausted."

Duker emphasized that exercise during periods of warm weather can present special problems. "Heat stroke, heat exhaustion and dehydration are more than just uncomfortable situations," he said. "If not recognized in time, they can result in permanent damage to the body and even death."

"The warning signs of hyperthermia (heat-related problems) include nausea, throbbing head, chills, dry skin, giddiness, leg cramps, redness, goose bumps and incoherent speech," Duker said.

"At the first sign of these symptoms, begin treatment. Cool the body, and replace fluids as quickly as possible."

"Do not use salt tablets," he said. "They draw fluids away from the tissues that need them for the cooling process and into the stomach to dissolve the sodium. The best way to replace the lost salt and other needed body minerals is through a balanced diet."

Duker noted that eating patterns have an extremely important role in physical fitness. "The traditional Southern diet is not an ideal eating practice," he said.

"Practice moderation. Persons who are overweight face a greater risk of diabetes, gall bladder disease and high blood pressure. Hold down the amount of fat, cholesterol, sugar and salt in your diet. If you must snack between meals, try fresh fruits and vegetables."

"Don't expect 'overnight' miracles in your physical fitness program," Duker said. "If you're not in good physical shape, it probably took you a long time to get to where you are. Getting back in shape will take time and consistency. Yet," he said, "a good physical fitness program can be enjoyable, and the rewards can more than justify the effort."

State-Navy kickoff slated for 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Jackson

Navy's first sojourn into the Magnolia State for a football contest, and Mississippi State's second game against one of the service academies in football is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Jackson Memorial Stadium.

Ironically, Navy has never lost to a Southeastern Conference team while Mississippi State is unbeaten in its only battle with a service academy in football. Navy is 4-0-2 in games against SEC foes Georgia (2-0), Vanderbilt (1-0-2), and Mississippi (1-0).

The last time the Midshipmen met an SEC opponent came in 1967 when Vanderbilt tied the Mids 35-35 at Annapolis. The national anthem had to be played after the game to break up a free-for-all which erupted as the result of the hard-fought upset.

Mississippi State's only experience against the service academies came in 1935 when the Bulldogs upended highly-favored Army 13-7 at Michie Stadium in West Point, N.Y.

Charles (Pee Wee) Armstrong connected with the late Fred Walters on a 65-yard play to give MSU the late-in-the-game shocker.

Naval personnel and their families at several Mid-South installations will have a chance to purchase half-price tickets through their command posts for Navy's only Mid-South appearance (the Mids are at South Carolina on Nov. 12) in '83.

Personnel at Meridian Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. NAS, Millington, Tenn. NAS, and the New Orleans Naval Base may contact their information offices about order blanks to secure $6 tickets (regular admission is $12).

Residents in Jackson may buy remaining duets at Time Out Sports Center in South Jackson or at Hemphill Drugstore in the Old Canton Road Plaza on the northern side of the city.

Because of the wide diversity of regional schedules, it is hard to find recent comparative scores of MSU or Navy opponents.

In 1979 Navy edged Illinois 13-12 while the Bulldogs scored a one-TD triumph at Illinois one year later during a 28-21 squeaker. In 1978 Florida State downed the Midshipmen 38-6 after State had ripped FSU 55-27 in an emotional Homecoming encounter. State later lost 17-9 to the 1979

Seminole in Tallahassee.

Navy has been to three bowl games in the last five years while the Bulldogs have attended two postseason classics over the past three years. State is 23-13 composite since 1980 while the Mids are 21-11-1 prior to their 1983 opener at Virginia Saturday over the same period.

Navy Director of Athletics J.O. Coopedge is a native of Blytheville, Ark., northwest of Memphis while MSU Director of Athletics Carl Maddox is a former Torpedo Boat skipper for the U.S. Navy in World War II.

Bass anglers to vie for $3,700-plus

Bass anglers in the Ole Miss Division of the Red Man Tournament Trail take their last swipe at the 1983 qualifying season Sept. 18 in a showdown on Sardis Lake.

The concluding event of the season's slate for Ole Miss fishermen, the Sardis contest is expected to bring a field of 100 competitors together to cast for shares of a purse anticipated at more than $3,700. The angler who lands the heaviest catch of bass in the one-day tournament is expected to pocket more than $1,200 in prize money.

Headquarters for the contest will be Engineers Point at Sardis Dam.

Beyond immediate gains, Ole Miss fishermen will tackle Sardis as their final opportunity to secure points and pounds of fish that will put some of them in a position to snare far greater rewards in post-season competition.

The Red Man Tournament Trail consists of 10 divisions of competition geared for weekend, "working man" bass anglers. Each division offers a circuit of six one-day, $50-entry-fee tournaments. While entries are economical, gains can be substantial due to a policy of returning 100% of entry money to the fishermen as cash prizes along the trail.

Purses are guaranteed by supporting sponsors Ryobi America Corp., Humminbird by Technic, Mann's Bait Co. and Stroh Brewery Co. A $1,000 minimum winner's prize is guaranteed at each event, but sizable fields have resulted in larger payoffs.

The Ole Miss Division fisherman who scores the most points during the season will earn $1,000 from OMC $500 from Evinrude motors, $500 from Johnson outboards. The points champ in each of the other nine divisions also earns $1,000 from OMC.

The top 24 Ole Miss anglers will earn berths in the Red Man All American Bass Championship to be fished Oct. 18-22 on Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley in western Kentucky.

At the All American, the Ole Miss qualifiers fish for two days among themselves, the winner of the round earning a new Ranger bass boat. Second and third place prizes will be substantial cash sums, but every qualifier will earn a check of some amount. Meanwhile, qualifiers representing the other nine divisions fish in identical competition with identical prizes.

The three top finishers in each division then earn the right to fish one more day in a quest for bank-busting cash awards. They combine into a field of 30. The angler who brings in the heaviest sack of bass that day pockets a cool $50,000. Second and third places will pay with other major cash prizes.

The All American competitor who catches the largest single bass will win a new, 150hp Mercury Black Max outboard motor.

The entry deadline for Ole Miss anglers bound for the Sardis event is Sept. 7. No entries can be accepted after this cut-off date.

Red Man events are staged by crews from the Kentucky-based Operation Bass. More information on the Sardis Lake event and the Red Man Tournament Trail is available from Operation Bass, Rt. 2, Box 75B, Gilbertsville, KY 4044, telephone (502) 362-4880.

Bulldogs practicing for '84 baseball season

Coach Ron Polk opened 1983 Mississippi State fall baseball practice with a pair of split squad workouts last week.

Enthusiasm will be high for the 53 candidates in fall drills after State closed the '83 campaign as Western Division winner in the Southeastern Conference and 42-15 overall.

State has a strong nucleus returning from the team which nabbed runnerup honors to eventual NCAA champion Texas in the NCAA Central Region tourney at Austin, Tx., while making MSU's fourth NCAA appearance in the last six seasons.

"It looks as if everyone is going to report in good shape for fall practice," Polk said. "We're excited about the chance to work out, and we feel good about our chances next spring in regular-season competition."

The ninth-year baseball mentor at Mississippi State expects as many as six candidates from the 1983 Bulldogs' football team when spring practice opens, but their seasonal duties on the gridiron will prevent autumn evaluations.

"We will have a complete evaluation of the personnel and the squad in all areas," Polk stated, "and several of our players had outstanding summers."

After playing some home exhibition games with nearby rivals under revised Southeastern Conference guidelines in fall, 1981, the Bulldogs are sticking with their 1982 plan which did not include games against other universities in the fall.

"We have found that it is easier to look at 18 players in the field along with our pitchers and designated hitters during intrasquad games," he said. "This way you have the opportunity to observe more players in more game situations, plus you do not have to file eligibility papers."

The Bulldogs' coach, who is 44-22 in his career, has a major college baseball record of 1,134 in eight years with the Bulldogs. He has coached the team in 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, and 1983.

at 7:30 p.m. while on Sunday, Oct. 9, there will be a special alumni baseball game. Both are at Dudy Noble Field.

The Alumni Game will pit members of the 1976-80 Bulldog squads against players from the 1981-83 teams and much interest has already been expressed in that 2:00 p.m. encounter on Oct. 9.

Polk, meanwhile, is looking forward to putting his current 1983-84 squad through the paces after the outstanding finish in '83.

"We'll have a seven-week practice period," he explained, "and fundamentals will be a big part of the procedures. We're anxious to be able to make a total evaluation of the players on hand and then to start our off-season weight program."

Brief

OPEN HOUSE

Golden Eagle football fans are invited to attend pre-game Open House activities sponsored by the University of Southern Mississippi Alumni Association and the local alumni chapter prior to the UMS-Louisiana Tech game on Sept. 17. The pre-game Open House will be held this week at USM Alumni House from 4-6 p.m.

These pre-game parties have grown in popularity over the years and are an ideal place to meet friends and stir up Eagle Fever. The USM Cheerleaders and Eagle March will also be on hand for a short pep rally. All USM Golden Eagle fans are welcome.

LONG TIME RIVAL

Southern Mississippi will be gunning for its 26th win over longtime rival Louisiana Tech when the two teams square off in Hattiesburg at 7 p.m. Saturday night.

The Mississippi team holds a 24-12 in the series that began in 1955.

Tech was a decided underdog in last year's contest but the Louisiana Bulldogs came out of the gates strong, winning 17-14. The Bulldogs' coach, who is 44-22 in his career, has a major college baseball record of 1,134 in eight years with the Bulldogs. He has coached the team in 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, and 1983.

Hawks eyeing lead in series

HNC faces first conference test

By EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock County's Hawks will be looking for the best two out of three when their fledgling series against Stone County continues at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Gulf Coast Junior College's Perkinson campus stadium.

The Tomcats clawed the Hawks last year, 28-2.

In 1981, Tailback Lydell Curry led the Hawks to a 29-28 win in the White Cypress group's first encounter with the Wiggins Warriors.

Stone will be spoiling for a 1983 maiden victory after they were skinned by George County last week, 38-15, and by Bay High the week before, 6-0.

"We're expecting a big game and our first Deep South Conference win," said HNC coach Irvin Favre.

"We came out of the Pearl River Central game last week in pretty good shape with just the usual scrapes and bruises," Favre added.

"We stayed in the game all the way last week, but we got our pride hurt anyway—we don't plan to let that happen at Perkinson," the Hawk coach continued.

The Hawks lost a hard-fought battle against the PRC

Stone County finished the 1982 season in a three-way tie for the DSC championship with Pearl River Central and Bay High.

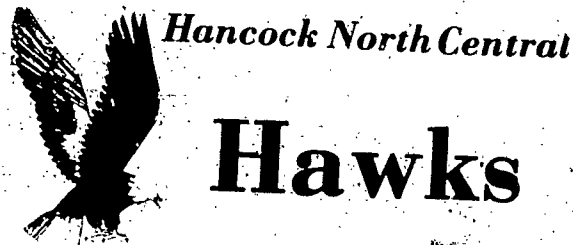

The Tomcats were selected as 'the best representative' of the conference to play in the District VIII-A championship where they knocked off Poplarville for the title.

Tomcat linebackers Ulysses Norman and kicker Randy Geiger will lend all-conference status to the Stone defense.

Another dangerous furry critter roaming the Perk gridiron Friday night will be split end Darryl Tillman who can cover 100 yards in 10.1 seconds.

Stone head coach Floyd Davis is in his first season at the Tomcat helm. He is a former Southwest Junior College coach.

Favre said he is looking for a large aggregation of Hawk fans to motor to the Perk arena Friday in a continuation of the solid support the squad has attracted at home thus far this year.

Navy-State contest a first for both teams

Never-say-die Navy and undefeated Mississippi State tangle for the first time in history Saturday at 7:30 p.m. (CDT) in Jackson's Mississippi Memorial Stadium.

In what shapes up as one of the top intersectional matchups in the Mid-South this weekend, the 1-0 Bulldogs seek to keep momentum after limiting Tulane to 20 net yards rushing in a 14-9 opening-game triumph on Sept. 3.

That figure was good enough to top Division I-A statistics in defense against the run last week, and the Bulldogs would like nothing better than to maintain that status against the Midshipmen, who lost 27-16 at Virginia last week.

Navy started more than a couple of foes last year with its disciplined defense, and Coach Gary Tranquill has taken up where he left off in this regard.

Virginia tossed 17 passes at the Middles over the weekend and Navy picked off a remarkable five aerials while relying on the airways to control the football for over 19 minutes on the offensive side.

USNA quarterback Rick Williamson, a junior from Jacksonville, Fla., was good on 17 of 39 attempts for 206 yards, including six for 94 yards and a touchdown to junior flanker Ken Helme of Richmond, Va.

Williamson engineered an emotional 24-7 win by the Midshipmen over Army to close the '82 season and receives strong backing from All-America candidate linebacker Andy Ponceiro, a 220-pound senior from Littleton, Colo.

Tailback Napoleon McCallum of Milford, Ohio, and cornerback Eric Wallace of Hampton, Va., are breakaway threats on kick returns, and the Bulldogs are hoping for another strong day from the MSU specialty units.

Coach Emery Bellard can call upon a fine fleet of five senior backs, who eclipsed the two-mile career rushing mark in the win over Tulane and who seek to help keep State's defense off the field for longer durations.

Senior halfback George Wonsley, a 6-0, 205-pound darter from Moss Point, Miss., and younger brother of the Washington Redskins' Otis Wonsley, paces the rushers with 71 yards on 12 tries.

Senior quarterback John Bond of Valdosta, Ga., sets a record every game he gains a yard in total offense in an MSU uniform and hopes to move up to eighth place on the all-time Southeastern Conference career listing in this category.

Bond enters the second game of '83 with 1,682 yards rushing and 3,413 aerial yards in his career for 5,095 yards —33 away from topping Alan Risher of LSU (1980-82) with 5,127 yards on the league list. Heisman Trophy winner Herschel Walker is seventh with 5,259 yards from 1980-82.

State will also seek to add to its winning percentage of .638 (23-13) since the beginning of the 1980 season as it takes on a key intersectional rival. The Bulldogs own an impressive mark of 152-74-13 with all independent teams they have met since 1965.

USM sleep lab to open this month

With the establishment of the USM Sleep Laboratory, research is continuing at the University of Southern Mississippi into the control of bruxism.

The lab, being constructed on the second floor of the Education and Psychology Building, will have a central room to receive and monitor the data on three sleeping subjects participating in Dr. John Harsh's study of bruxism or grinding of the teeth during sleep.

The lab will also be used in Harsh's continuing research into the control of apnea, a condition in which people stop breathing for short periods while asleep.

The bruxism research, begun with a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health two years ago, is continuing with administration support in the form of funds for staff, facilities and equipment, according to Harsh.

Estimates of bruxism sufferers range from 10-20 percent of the population with its occurrence most common among children, who tend to outgrow it. Grinding of the teeth during sleep is also frequently found in those suffering from Temporal Mandibular Joint pain (TMJ) characterized by pain in the jaw just below the ear.

Severe cases of bruxism can lead to headaches, shoulder aches, earaches and teeth problems both on the surface of the tooth and deep into the roots.

"A significant number of the people with bruxism have problems that require medical or dental treatment," said Harsh, "so it is a serious condition."

The research is attempting to determine if those suffering from bruxism can be taught to relax certain muscles while asleep.

The first two years of the research concentrated on subjects without bruxism. The subjects were trained to respond in their sleep to a tone by tensing or relaxing the muscle.

"We had some success with the upper and lower masseter of jaw muscles," Harsh said. Most of the participants in the studies did not remember hearing or responding to the tones and after an initial adjustment, reported only minimal disruption of their sleep.

"We found it much easier to get them to increase the tension while asleep than to produce the relaxation response, however this response proved difficult even while subjects were awake," said graduate assistant Diane O'Rourke.

Harsh is now ready to test the techniques developed in the USM lab on people with bruxism. Initially subjects will be tested in nap sessions in the new USM Sleep Laboratory.

The new lab to open in September will have three temperature controlled and acoustically isolated sleep stations surrounding a central data reception room manned by psychology graduate students.

Sleep research is a new and expensive area of research. The cost of paper to record brain waves and all the other physiological information runs up to $50 per night per subject.

Only four years ago there were under 30 sleep disorder centers nationwide and now with the increased knowledge about the extent and nature of sleep disorders there are over 125.

Advances in available technology is one reason for the increased interest in sleep disorders. If the technological evolution continues, Harsh foresees the possibility of some device like a pacemaker being used for conditions like apnea and bruxism, bedwetting and other disorders.

SUMMA CUM LAUDE — Leslie Ann Staehle, daughter of Charles and Vicky Staehle of Bay St. Louis graduated Summa Cum Laude from the University of Mississippi following the summer term with a BA in political science and minor in history. She was class marshal for the School of Liberal Arts and member of Pi Kappa Phi. She is majoring in international relations in the UM Law School.

A rodent's teeth never stop growing. They are worn down by the animal's constant gnawing.

Growing Child

Learning to Classify

"What's this?"

"What's that?"

When children ask these questions, they are in the process of learning how to classify things—to distinguish how objects are alike and how they are different.

We are always classifying things, grouping things. We classify things all day, every day, automatically. Children start learning this skill early in life, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

Who cares? We all do. Because we have to. Because we can't live without being able to tell the difference between aspirin and arsenic.

It's classification that tells a child how to think about the world, where to look for a crayon, what part of a catalog will have a picture of a doll. It tells a child she can expect to find bears in the animal crackers and jelly next to the peanut butter on the shelf.

Most important, classification skill will show a child how to create order out of chaos, how to cope confidently with unknowns in the future when parents will not be around to give answers.

It looks simple, but classification isn't as easy as apple pie. For example, in the supermarket, soft drinks are arranged on shelves by brand, flavor (lime, orange, cherry), by size (quarts, pints), by number (six-packs, eight-packs), and by type of container (can, bottle).

How does a child learn to classify things? You help her. Almost every minute of the day, she hears and sees you using the idea of same and different that underlies all classification.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information and a free sample newsletter, write to: Growing Child, P. O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

Classical education or employment training???

Editor's Note: The following article was the result of a project funded by the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities to the Mississippi Press Association. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not those of either organization.

By DARLA MILLER
The University of Mississippi
The passage of Governor Winter's education package, House Bill 4, has caused educators to focus their attention on the question: "What will our schools teach?"

Such a question may seem simple—we teach reading, writing and arithmetic, of course. Unfortunately, the days of simplicity are gone. We live in a complex world and nothing less than the national security tests on our decisions about education.

Mortimer Adler, author of "The Paideia Proposal: An Educational Manifesto," recommends a sweeping, nationwide, twelve-year, single-track academic program with virtually no electives and no vocational training. Adler, an encyclopedist whose "Great Books and Great Ideas" volumes summarize the intellectual accomplishments of Western civilization, believes that a body of learning exists that should be the "possession of all human beings."

He says that equality can be brought about by providing a rigorous, classical education for every child regardless of background or aptitude. He believes that the value of education transcends the need to be trained for gainful employment.

On the other hand, a March 7, 1983, article in "Newsweek" titled "Vocational Schools Get Respect," describes a definite trend toward a very pragmatic approach to education.

The article describes young people like Erik Tachosik, an honor student who opted for vocational training in computer technology because when he studied the want ads, "he didn't see many for teachers, bankers, or professional players; he saw a lot for electronics technicians."

Today, public community colleges and private for-profit trade schools are the fastest growing institutions in higher education. Unemployment and the frequent uselessness of a college diploma in much of the job market hint strongly at a continuation in this trend. Adler may see greatness in the breadth and depth of the human intellect, but when it really comes down to it, many people see food-on-the-table as a first priority.

In fact, the question about what to teach is so intriguing that it threatens to obscure a far more important question: "How will we find and keep teachers who are able to teach?"

Truck loads of legislation and volumes of committee reports mean very little if the man or woman standing at the front of the class is uninspired, uncaring, or incompetent. Whether a child is learning about the insides of a microcomputer or memorizing Shakespeare is ultimately less important than whether or not the child is, in fact, learning something.

Far too many children simply mark time in boring classes where teachers slam yardsticks against desks to intimidate misbehavers. Jerome Kagan, nationally recognized educator from Harvard University, has said, "It is not the activity per se but the melody behind the words" that matters in early educational experiences.

A "true" teacher has the miraculous ability to spellbind a student's attention, to relate to individual differences, and to gently but firmly nudge students to excellence. Sadly, this kind of talent, ability, and creativity are not easily drawn to a career that offers low status, low pay, and—if it is done well—very hard work.

Twenty years ago large numbers of bright, capable women were eager for teacher certification, "to have something to fall back on." Today's bright, ambitious young women know about law school, medical school and the lucrative world of real estate. Bright young men and women who are willing to sacrifice money and status for educational idealism are an endangered species, but these young men and women are the stock-in-trade of education.

"All the talk about excellence is superficial unless we acknowledge that good teaching is at the very heart of good schools," says Ernest Boyer of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Mississippi must be careful that its efforts to improve the school system do not submerge good teachers in busywork that hurts rather than helps their teaching. Our efforts should be geared toward weeding out incompetence; rewarding excellence with both respect and remuneration; supporting rigorous teacher-training programs in our colleges and universities; and then allowing teachers the time, the support and the freedom they need to teach to the best of their ability.

They should be held accountable for reaching our long-term goals—not for marching the children lockstep through a myriad of tiny objectives.

Understanding, motivation and the sheer joy of learning should be emphasized, and no teacher should ever be overheard in the teacher's lounge moaning, "we have to be in fractions by Friday whether anyone gets long division or not."

As we try to bring Mississippi's education system into the 21st century, we must find some common denominator for deciding what will be taught in our schools. We must courageously do away with all that is frivolous and unnecessary in our schools. Most importantly we must find a way to attract and hold inspired teachers who are able to teach the things we want taught.

DRUG QUIZ

by Curt Scarborough, Ph.D.
Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo.

QUESTIONS (True or False)
1. Criminal activity is not clearly related to illegal drug use.

2. Only 10 to 15 percent of the total supply of illicit drugs is seized by officials at the nation's borders.

3. Virtually all of the marijuana consumed in the United States is produced outside the country.

ANSWERS

1. False. A survey of state prisons shows that more than half took illegal drugs during the month before they committed their crimes. Almost a third were under the influence of an illicit drug at the time they committed the offenses. In San Francisco, dope is believed to be an element in 7 of every 10 crimes.

2. True. The investigative arm of Congress (GOA) estimates that the 2.8 million pounds of marijuana seized last year was only 16 percent of the supply; the 608 pounds of heroin confiscated was just 10 percent of the total; the 12,500 pounds of cocaine intercepted was only 11 percent of the amount on the street.

3. False. DEA officials now think that as much as 20 percent of the nation's marijuana is grown domestically.

Acker, Gex to coordinate 'Chemical People' project

Two Hancock County citizens have been named town meeting coordinators for "The Chemical People" project, according to June M. Milam, director of the Drug Research and Education Association in Mississippi, Inc. (DREAM).

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland town meeting coordinators are Barinley Acker, 5610 Ahuli Place, Bay St. Louis; and Marjorie Gex, 104 Bay View Ct., Waveland.

They will join First Lady Nancy Reagan, more than 270 Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) stations throughout the nation and thousands of town meeting coordinators in local communities across the United States to help combat drug and alcohol abuse among young people.

The main components of the local "Chemical People" project are the two town meetings that should be held Nov. 2 and 9 in order to give concerned citizens a chance to watch two television programs on Mississippi ETV at 7 p.m. The programs, also called "The Chemical People" and hosted by Mrs. Reagan, define American youths' problems with drugs and alcohol and offer specific solutions.

After watching the programs together, the local citizens will be given an opportunity to discuss their local drug and alcohol problems among area youth. The project then encourages each community to form a task force to work on solving the problems on the local level.

More than 60 communities in Mississippi have already begun to make preparations to hold town meetings and organize task forces. To be a part of the project or attend your town meeting, contact your town meeting coordinators, or write The Chemical People Project, Mississippi ETV, P.O. Drawer 1101, Jackson, MS 39205.

MUW attracts 284 men

Enrollment for the fall semester at Mississippi University for Women is up more than 20 percent, said Registrar Jayne Perkins.

Fall semester enrollment this year stands at 2,276. Last fall's figure was 1,894. "We have 20.1 percent more students than last fall," Miss Perkins said.

Sept. 8 was the last day students could enter classes and receive credit for fall-semester courses.

Of the 2,276 students enrolled this fall at MUW, 12.5 percent or 284 are men, the registrar noted.

MUW's enrollment report shows an increase of 12.9 percent in female students. Preliminary reports also in-dicade retention has improved, although figures are not available at the present time. Miss Perkins also indicated that the full-time-equivalency (FTE) count is up approximately 300 over last year's figure, based on preliminary reports.

IT'S A FACT

There are only two investor-owned electric utilities in the state—Mississippi Power Company, which is headquartered in Gulfport, and Mississippi Power & Light Company (MP&L), which is located in Jackson. The names are similar sounding, but compared with MP&L, Mississippi Power has a different service area, different customers, different generating plants, different rates, and different investors. In fact, about the only thing we have in common is the product we both sell.

In Southeast Mississippi, the name is Mississippi Power. And that's all there is to it.

Weight-loss diets must be balanced

By Melissa Mixon
Food and Nutrition Specialist,
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Like mini-skirts, disco, and toga parties, diet fads come and go. Just when some people are about to give up on the current craze, another one comes along that they think might work.

Many are appealing because they promise quick and easy weight loss. But unless the diet is nutritionally balanced—as many of these aren't—it could be harmful if followed over a long period of time.

Be suspicious of diets that promise quick results, especially those that encourage eating little or no food, emphasize one type of food to the exclusion of others, or promise miraculous results with a particular food.

Many popular diet fads avoid foods containing carbohydrates. Eliminating carbohydrates from the diet can lead to a condition called ketosis. When carbohydrates are not available, incompletely metabolized substances called ketones accumulate in the blood, causing it to become acidic.

People in a ketotic state tend to lose their appetite and become weak, fatigued, nauseated, and dehydrated. These symptoms usually disappear when a balanced diet containing carbohydrates is resumed.

Before trying a reducing diet, be sure it's nutritionally sound. Some ways to evaluate a diet include:

—Are there fewer calories in the weight-loss diet than in foods normally eaten? Remember, weight is lost only by taking in fewer calories than are expended.

—Does the plan include a variety of foods from these groups: Fruit and vegetable, bread and cereal, milk and dairy, meat, poultry, fish and dry beans? It's important to have foods from each of these groups each day. The greater the variety of foods in the diet, the less chance there will be for the development of a deficiency or an excess of any nutrient.

—Is it made up of food that will hold its appeal, not just for several weeks or months, but for years to come? Remember that weight control is a life-long process.

—Are the foods available at most grocery stores? If products are not easily obtainable, interest in the diet may fade. Unusual foods are sometimes available only at specialty stores and often cost more than regular goods.

—Does it allow for favorite foods occasionally? On a sensible diet program, there's room for a rich dessert or some other favorite food in small amounts once in a while.

—Does the diet recommend changes in eating habits that fit current lifestyle and pocketbook?

Regardless of whatever claims people may hear, the only proven, safe way to lose weight is to consistently eat fewer calories than are needed and used by the body.

A sensible weight-loss program is one that supplies a balanced diet, results in a slow, steady loss of weight, and that forms eating habits that will help maintain the weight loss.

GROUNDS DESIGNATED ARBORETUM—Al Summy tucks up signs on the trees at the City-County Library. Assisting Summy are, from left, Alice Holmes; Mrs. James A. Evans, president of Bay-Waveland Garden Club; and Lelyn Nybo, chairman of arboretum. The library grounds were chosen as a site for an arboretum because of the quality of specimens already growing there. The plant specimens must be of sufficient maturity to have developed normal characteristics of the species, each specimen must be labeled with a permanent type label and easy to read with the common name as well as the botanical name. The Bay St. Louis Arboretum is the first on library grounds and only the 18th in the state. (Staff photo by June M. Heydt)

Technical group plans N.O. Space Symposium

A symposium on present and future space projects featuring Astronaut Paul Weitz and General Bernard Randolph of the Air Force Space Division will be sponsored by the New Orleans Section of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics on Sept. 23 and 24.

Friday, Sept. 23, the program will feature a tour of the external tank manufacturing facilities at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Michoud Assembly Facility.

Presentations on U.S. space station designs and other potential future NASA and Department of Defense space programs will follow.

These include aft cargo carrier, shuttle derived vehicles, orbital transfer vehicle and external tank orbital applications.

A panel discussion on "Space Flight—From the Beginning" with Astronaut Weitz will conclude the day's presentations.

A reception is slated that evening at 5 p.m. at Sclafani's Restaurant, 9900 Haynes Blvd.

On Saturday, the program will be held at the University Center of the University of New Orleans and will feature 28 technical papers presented in five sessions.

A session on advanced space programs will be followed by four concurrent sessions.

Air Force Major General Bernard P. Randolph, vice commander of the Air Force Space Division, will deliver the keynote address on "The Future of Space" at a luncheon immediately following the sessions.

A nominal fee will be charged for the Saturday sessions and luncheon: $10 for AIAA members, $12 for non-members and $7 for students.

The public is invited (foreign nationals must make advanced reservations).

For information contact Leon Ronquillo at 504-255-2085 or Evan McCollum at 504-255-3788.

Winn-Dixie lists record earnings

Earnings for Winn Dixie Stores, Inc. reached an all-time high in fiscal year 1983.

For the year, earnings per share were $4.54 compared with $4.18 in 1982.

Fourth quarter earnings per share were $1.06 versus $0.98 in 1982.

Net profit after tax amounted to $113,460,000, up from $103,513,000 in 1982.

Fourth quarter 1983 net earnings were $28,550,000 compared with $24,272,000 last year.

Sales for the 52-week year ending June 29, 1983, totaled $7,018,605,000 an increase of 3.8 percent over $6,764,472,000 for the 52-week year ending June 30, 1982.

The increase on a comparable 52-week basis was 5.6 percent.

As previously reported on July 1, 1983, the board proposed a 5-for-3 stock split, subject to approval by shareholders at the annual meeting on Oct. 7, 1983.

Dividends were raised for the 40th consecutive year in July when monthly payments increased from 20 cents to 21½ cents per share.

After the stock split the dividend rate would become 13 cents monthly, or 1.56 annually, which is equivalent to 2.60 on pre-split shares, reflecting an 8.3 percent increase in dividends.

During the year the company opened 29 new stores, closed 41 and remodeled a total of 127 stores, including 58 which were also enlarged, ending the year with 1,210 stores in operation as compared with 1,222 last year.

ETV Brief

CANCER CAUSE

"Asbestos: A Lethal Legacy," a controversial film when it was shown in England in 1962, will be presented again on "Nova" at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 20 on the Mississippi ETV Network. It was first seen on ETV in March.

The film points up the plight of former asbestos workers, focusing on the story of Alice Jefferson, a recent victim of asbestos-caused cancer. She had worked with asbestos for only nine months—30 years ago.

"Nova" sets this British documentary within the context of America, where about 20 million people have been exposed to asbestos. "Nova" investigates the ramifications of the Chapter 11 bankruptcy filing of the giant of the American asbestos industry, the Manville Corporation.

Asbestos misuse has created a medical and social problem of enormous proportions. Asbestos has been recognized as a lethal cancer-causing agent since the 1930s, but the cancer it causes can take many years to

Telephone company lists new projects

To provide new and improved telephone service to customers in the Bayou LaTerre exchange and in the eastern portion of the 533 exchange, South Central Bell has begun work on projects in the southern portion of the Diamondhead subdivision and in Pearlington.

Don Roberts, telephone company district manager, said that 6,541 feet of cable ranging in size up to 900 circuits will be buried and strung aerially along the Diamondhead project route.

The new facilities will relieve existing facilities nearing capacity and provide service to new customers moving into that area.

The project will be complete and facilities available to customers by early Spring, 1984.

Some 9,400 feet of cable ranging in size up to 200 circuits will be buried and strung aerially along Highway 90 and White Bayou Road in Pearlington.

The new facilities will relieve existing facilities nearing capacity and meet demands for new service by customers moving into the growing area.

That project should be complete and facilities available to customers by February, 1984.
